Lady of the woods

A bewitching tale

By CHARLOTTE COOPER

Halloween: a time for witches, witchcraft, black cats and goblins. Or is it? Each of us has hurried past the graveyard on this night of nights and imagined the slight pressure of a ghostly hand on our shoulder, or a puff of cold breath in our ear. It is a night to celebrate and respect the spirits. Most Americans do that in costume, but witches, Wiccans, celebrate it as their New Year.

The Wiccan religion, whose followers are often called witches, is an earth-based religion. "The words witch and warlock are derogatory and connote negative images. Neither have much to do with the Wiccan religion. Warlock really means traitor. It is a term used in the past that was placed upon individuals who betrayed their own people. Even the clothing, the pointy hats, which was really part of the high fashion in those early days, became associated with the term 'witches'," says the witch of Groton, Diane DesRochiers. Ms. DesRochiers has been a witch for many years, has a BA in psychology, and a MS in counseling. She is also on the Board of Directors First Amendment Legal Defense Fund: Citizens Against Censorship.

Wiccans celebrate the changes of the seasons and honor the "Elements of Nature:" Earth, Air, Fire, Water, Spirit and their associated directions, North, East, South, West. "The 'pentacle,' a five-sided star, is the symbol for these elements. The fifth element, the Spirit, is the entity that Same jam new road

By SEAN DEVLIN

WILMINGTON - Selectmen were updated on the status of the town's upcoming Route 38 sewer and roadway reconstruction project during a meeting with the public works superintendent Monday night.

According to Superintendent Donald Onusseit, the town has agreed along with the Massachusetts Highway Department to reject the original bid on the project which would result in the town paying higher than reasonable prices for the work. Instead, Onusseit said that the project will be rebid as two separate projects rather than the one combined job which was originally intended so as to take advantage of overall cost savings. After holding previous discussions between town officials, consulting engineers, the state highway department and the Water and Sewer Commission, the group has concluded that dividing and putting the project out for rebid may be the town's most viable option.

"I think that this is the most cost effective way to get this project done," agreed Selectman Michael McCoy. "Otherwise, I think we'd be in trouble."

The reconstruction project, which includes town-funded water and sewer work combined with state-funded utility and resurfacing work, went out to bid in September. However, the low bid that resulted was an estimate of $2.6 million. With approximately $1.3 million of the estimate needed for

Shawsheen Commons

Rough roads ahead

By PAUL HAYES

WILMINGTON- Sidewalks and roads in the Shawsheen Commons housing development will remain unfinished, as they have been since work on the project stopped three years ago, while the town attempts to obtain funds for its completion.

Shawsheen Commons, located off of Hopkins Street, was left incomplete when a falling out among developers halted the project in 1995. As a result, one-third of the development roads are rough pavement, without sidewalks or associated roadside landscaping.

Earlier this month, The Board of Appeals voted to seize the bonds posted for the project, but the town may not receive the money from these bonds for some time. Developers post a bond with the town so that the town is able to complete a project if the developer is unable to.

According to Wilmington Town Counsel Alan Altman, the town must first determine how much money is left in the bonds, because some of the bond money had previously been released to developers to help them complete Shawsheen Commons. Altman will also send out claim letters demanding that the bond money be released to the town.

But there is a possibility that the town will enter into a lawsuit against the developers, and the banks holding the bonds, to obtain the bond money, and such a lawsuit would mean that Shawsheen Commons would not be completed until later next year.

The reason that the town does not finish the street and sidewalk work themselves prior to receiving the bond money is because all town money has already been allocated for specific uses.

"Municipal money is not like the money you bring to OSCO or CVS that you can use for whatever you want," Altman said.

Problems Arise

The project began when John Bresnehan of Framingham, Frank Callahan of Ayer, and Jay Tighe of Wilmington bought the property for Shawsheen Commons in May of 1987.

The project ran into many holdups, the most notable of which were when a moratorium was placed on all sewer extensions during the Boston Harbor clean-up project, and when residents of nearby Reed Street and Harold Avenue filed suit against developers and received a settlement of $40,000.

Construction began in 1991, and Tighe said he left in 1994 because he was not satisfied with the way in which the finish work on homes was completed, and felt that maintenance work was not carried out on already sold homes.

Tighe also filed suit against his former partners in 1995, because he said the other developers have withheld money owed to him for his work on Shawsheen Commons. Bresnehan is the person who was in charge of the project's finances, Tighe said. A trial is scheduled for Feb. 16, 1999.

"[The other developers] said they didn't make any money off of the project, I'm trying to get an accounting of where the money was going," Tighe said.

The reason he did not file suit sooner is because, in these types of development projects, the developers can't expect to receive any money until the project is nearly completed, Tighe said.

Repeated attempts to reach Bresnehan were unsuccesful.

Sweetheart alive and well

By PAUL HAYES

WILMINGTON- The Sweetheart Cup Company has not left the building.

Employees of Sweetheart, distressed at premature reports of their demise, insist that their lease at 1 Burlington Ave. lasts until next October, and add that the company has no plans to move out once the lease expires.

"I've lived in town my whole life, and I've worked for Sweetheart for 26 years," said Sweetheart representative Steve Tower. "It's disappointing to read our post mortem."

Sweetheart's leases on the three Burlington Avenue buildings run out on September 30, 1999. When the leases run out, California Products of Cambridge is expected to assume the lease on one of the buildings.

California Products, which produces paint and sports surfacings, plans on moving its production plant and corporate headquarters to the 180,000 square foot building, to which they plan to add 30,000 square feet of office space. They are scheduled to go before the Planning Board on Nov. 10.

Many reports have had California Products moving into a vacant facility, which is not the case.

Sweetheart has removed its manufacturing operations from the Burlington Avenue buildings since it was bought out by Fonda Corporation. Both companies produce disposable plates, forks and cups. But it still functions as a warehouse for Sweetheart plastic products made in Somerville and Manchester, NH. These products are shipped to such locations as Northern Maine, Vermont, New Jersey and Virginia.

Representatives of Sweetheart say they are operating the Burlington Avenue location as if it were going to remain in operation for years to come.

"It's a very active place we have here," said Tower. "We have 60 people working here 24 hours a day, seven days a week."

According to Tower, Sweetheart should not be written off, nor should its contributions to the town be forgotten. Sweetheart has contributed disposable plates and silverware to Wilmington Youth Soccer, the fire and police departments. In past summers, Sweetheart also employed students from the high school. Most of their employees are local residents, and many of them buy breakfast, lunch, dinner and late night snacks from local restaurants and stores, Tower said.

Steve Goodman of GFI Big Joe, which owns the three Burlington Avenue buildings, has said that both California Products and Sweetheart Plastics could co-exist on the site.

"We are working with California Products as well as Sweetheart Cup to create a good situation for all parties involved," Goodman said.

Conservation Committee

Fenway proposal still stalled

By KARIN ROUND

WILMINGTON - Although at least four residents came to the Conservation Commission meeting to hear about a proposed project on Fenway Street, discussion about the property never got any further than a problem with the mailing.

"Before we get started," said John Keeley, the commission's agent, "I got at least a dozen phone calls about this notification. Half of them were from people nowhere near the plot, and I also got calls from people who should have been notified and weren't."

Kenneth Meuse of Rollins Road was at the meeting, although he hadn't received a notice. Others received letters, but knew of neighbors who hadn't. Richard Mede of Troy, Mede and Associates in Tewksbury, represented applicant James Mangano and said that he would check the mailing list.

Chairman James Morris apologized to the residents present for dragging them out. He asked Mede to find out who did not receive proper notification. He also noted that the mailing included more residents than were required.

"Everybody who wants to speak will get the opportunity to do so," said Morris.

The Fenway Street hearing will continue at the November 4th

ROTH FAVORED FOR ESTATE PLANNING

The tax-free advantages of a Roth IRA make it ideal for estate planning, at least for those seniors who don't need the money to live on now and can pay taxes to convert. There are two benefits:

First, the money in a Roth IRA does not have to be distributed starting at age 70 1/2 - indeed, not at all during the owner's lifetime. And the entire amount can be rolled over - still free of income taxes at the owner's death.

With a traditional IRA, any heirs other than a spouse must pay income taxes on the funds, though they can stretch the payout. But should the beneficiary spouse predecease the account owner, when the owner dies the money - all taxable - must be distributed by the end of the year after the owner's death.

As the Roth IRA is rolled over, it can continue to grow, allowing the heirs a steady stream of tax-free income or a big nest egg. (Estate taxes may be due, though, if the estate is large enough.)

Should you consider a Roth IRA for your estate? Let's look at the numbers at

Letters To The Editor

Thank you, everyone

We would like to take this opportunity to say thank you to everyone both at the time of Justin's injury and after. It means a great deal to us.

It is so nice to know that in this busy community of our's, people still take the time to care. So whether it was the soccer team and their families, the football team and coaches, friends, neighbors, phone calls or words of concern, we would like to extend our gratitude.

We would also like to send out our warm thanks to the Wilmington EMT's who took very good care of our son that night.

Sincerely,
John, Annmarie,
Justin and Cody Cerra

Dunlevy supports Sue Tucker for Senate

Dear Editor:

Sue Tucker is my choice for state senator on Nov. 3. She has the experience, qualifications, and leadership to be an outstanding senator for Tewksbury. As a former state representative, Sue already knows how to get things done in the Legislature.

Sue is a former teacher who also served as vice chairman of the Education Committee. She understands the importance of good schools for all of our kids. She has also been in the private sector and started her own business.

Most important, Sue is a good listener who cares about people, communities, and good government. She will be there for us!

Please join me in voting for Sue Tucker on Nov. 3.

Joan Dunlevy,
Tewksbury

Question 4 is not the electic answer

Dear Editor:

Vote No on Question 4.

I urge you to vote No on Question 4 on your ballot next Tuesday, November 3. A No vote will repeal the electric deregulation law passed last year.

This law should be repealed for a number of reasons. It requires consumers to pay up to $3000 per family to bailout the electric utilities for their mismanagement and bad investments. It lowers funding for energy conservation efforts. It allows companies to build new power plants whether they are needed or not. In the past, companies had to demonstrate a need for a new power plant before they could build one. Also, communities will have less input into decisions about where these plants will be built and plants can be built in areas already having them, no matter how the residents feel about it.

In addition, the rate cut that is part of this law is temporary. The companies will make up for the money they are losing by charging higher rates in later years. This law is bad for the consumer and bad for the environment. Tell our legislators to pass a new electric deregulation law with real rate cuts, no bailout, and real protection for our health and the environment. Vote No on Question 4.

Anne Nilsen,
Tewksbury

AARP urges you to vote on Nov 3

Dear Editor:

It's a fact: Older Americans vote in greater proportion than any other age group. And, during this election year, older voters will once again make a significant impact in elections being held at the national, state and local levels.

As we prepare to go to the polls on November 3, I urge each of you to arm yourselves with the facts on issues that impact your lives, and the lives of your children and grandchildren. We need to know where the candidates stand on issues including Social Security, Medicare and Managed Care. Does a candidate support or oppose increasing taxes on Social Security benefits; changing the age when a person becomes eligible for Medicare; or enacting a Managed Care Patients' Bill of rights?

AARP believes elections should center on issues. As the associate state coordinator of AARP's nonpartisan voter education project, AARP/VOTE, I encourage you to take a hard look at where the candidates stand on the issues, and to use this information in making your voting decisions.

How our elected officials act on the issues this year and next will affect us and our families. Former President Dwight Eisenhower said, "Politics should be the part-time profession of every citizen." Democracy is too precious to neglect. Get involved. Stay informed. Vote on November 3.

Sincerely,
Diane Panacopolous
Associate AARP/VOTE
Mass. State Coordinator

McCoy supports Torkildsen

Dear Editor:

I am writing in strong support of former Congressman Peter Torkildsen in his bid to represent Wilmington again in Congress.

I am a Democrat, and have always been impressed with Peter's attention to our town. Every time the board of selectmen invited Peter to address an issue before us, he appeared personally. Peter also held constituent town meetings in Wilmington, when every voter could meet and question him. Peter often met with employees in our town, such as at Textron. Peter strongly supports Medicare and Social Security.

Peter will again represent Wilmington, Burlington, Bedford, North Reading and other communities with integrity. I hope all voters will vote for Peter Torkildsen for U.S. Congress on November 3. Thank you.

Sincerely,
Mike McCoy,
Selectman, Wilmington

Anderson is Tewksbury's best choice for Senate

Dear Editor:

Non-political facts why Anderson!

Unenrolled, democrats and republicans of Tewksbury and Dracut, we are (1) one of (6) six towns of the Greater Lowell "service area," funded by the state budget, for aid to the mentally ill and mentally retarded.

We area also the most underfunded per capita and have been for years. Our waiting list for "unserved" people is the longest of any district.

Kevin Anderson lives in our Greater Lowell "service area." Sue Tucker lives in the Greater Lawrence "service area." Sue Tucker cannot serve our district equally or with the same intensity and would be trying to wear (2) two hats. This cannot be done!

It is a reality of life, the town or city where a Legislator resides most often receives more funding from the state.

Example: Last year's foundation grant appropriations, Andover received over $300,000, Dracut $000,000, Tewksbury $000,000 (until Rep. Miceli obtained $30,000 plus for Tewksbury).

Kevin Anderson has pledged to support the Greater Lowell need for increased funding for the mentally ill and mentally retarded, which includes Tewksbury and Dracut.

Sincerely, Mark Wood, Tewksbury resident, chairman of a state mandated Human Rights Committee in Lowell.

Mark Wood,
Tewksbury

Principally speaking – "Thank you"

Dear Editor:

I take this opportunity to express my most sincere thanks for the many cards, calls and expressions of concern regarding my absence during September. At that time, for both personal and medically related reasons, I requested a change in my professional assignment. As you are well aware changes at the North and Shawsheen have taken place and I have begun new responsibilities. I look forward to a most positive and productive year working with the students, parents and staff of the Shawsheen.

I am grateful for the consideration and support that Dr. O'Donnell, Mrs. Harrison, Mr. Jordan, Mr. Gorham, the administrative team, and the Wilmington School Committee have extended on my behalf by allowing this change to take place. Their help, commitment and caring manner for young people, their parents and the public school staff continues to be most evident.

Sincerely,
Douglas W. Anderson

Question 2 would subsidize politicians - vote NO!

Dear Editor:

I am writing to urge folks to vote No on Question 2 on November 3.

Do you want to pay taxes so politicians can run for office? If Question 2 passes this November, you'll be taxed $56 million every four years to subsidize candidates for 214 offices across Massachusetts, from governor to your local state rep. Your $56 million will subsidize 80 percent of the campaign costs of candidates you don't know, or oppose, or even despise.

You don't want to pay $56 million for Question 2? Question 2's architects already know, because they polled you last March. They just don't care. But it's why Question 2 supporters so often dance around when talking about what their system costs. They're terrified the $56 million dollar word will spread. They'll tell you its per taxpayer cost is four muffins or two ice cream cones. But Question 2's $56 million cost every four years is the central issue taxpayers say they care about. And with good reason. For $56 million is just the beginning in Massachusetts. If approved, Question 2's supporters will push to cover sheriffs and district attorneys. Big city mayors are next. And $56 million is chump change compared to the big goal of Question 2's architects - having the taxpayers subsidize Congressional campaigns at a cost of between $5 and $8 billion dollars. That's a lot of ice cream cones.

For $56 million every four years you'd think a lot would change in Massachusetts, but nothing much will change with Question 2. A new day where entrenched politicians are dislodged? In Minnesota, after 20 years of comprehensive public financing, incumbents aren't thrown out of office any more often, nor are elections any closer, than in states with no public financing at all. So 20 years from now, if Question 2 is enacted, we'll have paid a quarter of a billion dollars for a political pipe dream. Tamed lobbyists? So why does Question 2 drop the current system, where lobbyists can give much less to a candidate per year than other donors, and allow lobbyists and other donors to give equal amounts?

More time with the voters? The 80 percent subsidies notwithstanding, Question 2 still allows candidates to raise a substantial amount of private contributions, so candidates will be chained to their phones, just as they are today. And since Question 2 doesn't really try very hard to cut campaign costs, there'll just be a lot more politics as usual. More pollsters telling candidates what to say. More handlers telling them how to say it. More researchers digging up dirt on opponents. More numbing television ads

You'd never know, from the ongoing debate, that there are many possible approaches to campaign finance reform in Massachusetts short of this radical new system. Question 2 has never undergone detailed public scrutiny where alternatives could be carefully examined outside the charged atmosphere of a political campaign. That's because Question 2's supporters don't care about alternatives. They already know the answer. They're planning that you'll be lulled on November 3 by the words "campaign finance reform."

But what about alternatives? If we're concerned about national party money affecting state races, we can tighten current laws. If we're concerned that the current $500 contribution limit per year is too high in a legislative race, we can drop the limit, as other states have. And if we want electronic reporting by candidates, let's require it. But we don't need Question 2 for any of these. Indeed, if Question 2's supporters put half the energy of their campaign into using existing contribution reports to challenge incumbents about their contributors and into helping new candidates to run, we could have just as much accountability without the $56 million price tag.

If Question 2's glorious promises just aren't real, we have to ask what really productive things its $56 million cost could buy. So what's more important: pollsters for candidates or full day kindergarten across Massachusetts? Political handlers or a computer on every school child's desk in Massachusetts! Negative television ads or the insurance that will keep 12,000 elders at home, where they want to be? Is there really any doubt?

The voters reject Question 2 once they know what it costs. Question 2 won't matter much in the long run. We can improve campaign financing in Massachusetts without Question 2. And for $56 million, we could do other things that would matter a lot right now. So the choice is clear. On November 3, please - vote No on Question 2.

Sincerely,
Michael D. Donovan

Chamber of Commerce to host

Rt 38 / 62 update luncheon Nov. 5

WILMINGTON - Thursday, November 5, the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce will host a luncheon to provide business and community members up-to-date information on upcoming local construction and improvement projects.

Guest speakers, including representatives from the Mass. Highway Department, the MBTA, and State Representative James Miceli, will detail the latest developments on the reconstruction of the Route 62 bridge as well as the proposed MBTA parking lot. Representatives of the Town of Wilmington will also be on hand.

"These projects are expected to effect roughly 250 businesses in Wilmington along the Route 129/38 corridor, about 55 of which are Chamber members," notes John Vassallo, president of Wilmington's Chamber of Commerce. "It's part of the Chamber's mission to ensure that these businesses, as well as the Wilmington community, have an opportunity to hear all the details and understand the impact these projects will have."

The lunch, which is being held at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Wilmington from noon to 1:30 p.m. is open to all local business and community members. The cost, which includes lunch, is $10 for Chamber members and $12 for non-members. Guests are welcome.

Space is limited, and reservations are required. All who are interested in attending are asked to contact the Chamber office at 978-657-7211, or email them at wilmacc@tiac.net.

Pheasant Lane Mall night to benefit local charities

TEWKSBURY - Friends of the Tewksbury Library will be participating in their second annual Pheasant Lane Mall Charity Night '98 to benefit many local nonprofit organizations, Sunday, November 22 at the Pheasant Lane Mall in Nashua, N.H. from 6 to 10 p.m.

Pheasant Lane Mall Charity Night '98 is for people of all ages, and will feature such activities as live entertainment, refreshments, prize drawings, a cooking contest, $5 off any purchase of $25 or more at participating department stores - plus great store discounts at participating merchants. Tickets are available at the Tewksbury Public Library and by calling Donna Haines at 851-7717.

All participating organizations keep 100 percent of the profits from their ticket sales. In addition, the charity that sells the most tickets to the event will receive a bonus from the Pheasant Lane Mall.

For more information call Donna Haines at 851-7717.

Overnight parking ban begins Nov. 1

TEWKSBURY - Parking Clerk Elizabeth Carey has reminded residents that the overnight street parking ban (midnight to 6 a.m.) in effect on all streets beginning November 1, 1998 (town bylaw 12.04.280). A fine of $10 will be imposed for a violation of this section.

During a snow storm, day or night, all vehicles must park off the street (Town bylaw 12.04.280). A fine of $10 will be imposed for a violation of this section.

Your cooperation is needed during inclement weather to prevent interference with the snowplowing and sanding and to keep the streets open for fire, police, ambulance, and school buses and other emergency vehicles. Town-wide overnight street parking ban remains in effect until March 31, 1999.

An evening with Walt Whitman Oct. 30

TEWKSBURY - Tewksbury's Patten Public Library, in continuing its "Historical Characters in Perspective" series, presents its next free program on Friday, October 30, at 7:30 p.m. at Tewksbury Town Hall.

"An Evening with Walt Whitman" is a one-man show performed by Stephen Collins. The presentation captures the individuality of Whitman in his life and in his poetry through the use of Walt's actual words and dialogue.

This program is supported in part by a grant from the Tewksbury Cultural Council, a local agency supported by the Massachusetts Cultural Council.

Local woman arrested on New Hampshire charges

By FRANK J. AMATO

WILMINGTON - Quick action by two Wilmington Police Officers resulted in the arrest of a Wilmington woman Sunday afternoon.

Dawn Goodearl, 27, Wilmington was arrested on fugitive from justice charges and numerous default charges after a brief foot chase.

Wilmington Detective Inspector John Bossi, and Officer Brian Gillis spotted Goodearl and made the arrest.

Goodearl, was wanted by the Salem New Hampshire Police Department for receiving stolen property.

According to Salem, New Hampshire Police Captain Alan Gould, Goodearl allegedly pawned a Sharp 13" color TV, a Magnavox VCR, and a Craftsman belt sander at a Salem pawn shop. All items were reported stolen in a North Andover housebreak July 30th.

Goodearl is being held on $1000 bail and is scheduled for a probable cause hearing November 4th.

Haunted happenings

By PAUL HAYES

This Halloween, expect something horrible to hit the streets of Wilmington.

The 31st annual Horribles Parade, which begins at the police station this Saturday night at 6:45 p.m., is just one of the Halloween-related activities that residents can take part in this week.

Approximately 500 children in costumes and their parents are expected to take part in this years Horribles Parade, which ends at the Wilmington High School tennis courts at 7 p.m., where the children will be given candy bars, popcorn, donuts, drinks, and Halloween ribbons.

Hugh Wiberg will also bring an enormous pumpkin, with which the children can have their pictures taken. Organizations helping to pay for the candy are the Elks, Lions club, Knights of Columbus, Town Employees Association and the Chamber of Commerce, and high school varsity athletes and National Honor Society members have volunteered to help with the parade.

Anyone who wants to volunteer to help in the parade can call Ron Swasey of the Wilmington Recreation Office at 658-4270 for more information.

But if it's fright you're after, then look no further than Krochmal Farms, 1151 South St., Tewksbury.

Krochmal Farms will have haunted hayrides from 7 to 9 p.m. on Thursday and 7 to 10 p.m. on Friday. Hayride passengers can expect to be scared out of their wits by over twenty freaks and ghouls that jump out of the darkness along the hayride trail. Admission is $12 per person with reservations, $15 per person without reservations, and $10 per person for groups of 20 or more people.

Krochmal Farms also conducts a Children's Safe Trick or Treat Ride on Saturday from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. On the ride, children will get candy from characters they meet along the trail. Admission is $7 per person with a reservation, $9 without a reservation.

Also getting into the Halloween spirit is Funland, 1789 Main St., Tewksbury. On Friday and Saturday night from 6 to 9 p.m. you can play "Spooky Golf" on Funland's mini-golf course. The redesigned course features the devil, Frankenstein, scorpions, spiders and spiderwebs. Admission to Spooky Golf is $5 for adults, $4 for children 11 and under.

Funland is also selling a variety of Halloween costumes costing between $4 and $18.

The Wilmington Dance Club held their monthly dance last Saturday at the K of C Hall. Members of this ballroom dance club have been meeting the 2nd Saturday of every month for 36 years. Shown in this photo are: (L) George and Ann Simmons, who served as the clubs first secretary couple, and (R) Shirley and John Hadfield, first presidents couple. For information about the Wilmington Dance Club contact Jean Chang at 657-7720. (Maureen Lamoureux photo)

Princess Di's dress to be on display in Lowell

LOWELL - In conjunction with the opening of the exhibition of Princess Diana's Dresses at the American Textile Museum, The Design Place will celebrate English style Home Furnishings with an afternoon tea and presentation on Thursday, November 19 from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m.

Afternoon Tea will be served by Elizabeth Ann's Tea Room, accompanied by a sure-to-be lively talk by world renowned English home furnishings fabric expert, John Buscemi of Classic Revivals, Boston. John will bring samples of fabrics from the only remaining company in the world that makes handwoven patterned silks, as well as samples of the vibrant and fun colors of English fabric house - Anna French.

John Buscemi's company is known for its adherence to original British fabric designs and manufacturing methods. Classic Revivals has completed restoration work at the White House, Historic Deerfield, Sturbridge Village and several Newport Mansions.

Tea will be served from 4:30 to 5:30, with the talk on fabrics and English interiors from 5:30 to 6:30.

Admission is $10 per person and is by reservation only. Please call 978-970-5554 for information and reservations. In the spirit of Princess Diana, a portion of the $10 admission fee will be donated to the Aids Memorial Fund of Lowell.

Shawsheen VICA elects new officers

BILLERICA - Students at Shawsheen Tech have elected officers for Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) for the 1998-99 school year. They include:

Candice Finnin of Burlington (commercial art and design), president; Adam Danielson of Burlington (metal fabrication student), vice president; Anthony Micalizzi of Billerica (culinary) parliamentarian; Kristin Fox of Billerica (commercial art), reporter; Stacy VanGordon of Wilmington (business information services), secretary; and Kristen TenDyke of Wilmington (commercial art), treasurer.

Officers and other VICA members served as hosts at the school's Community Open House Wednesday evening October 28.

The new officers look forward to one of the first events where they can hone and demonstrate their teamwork and leadership skills - the statewide Fall Leadership Conference of VICA November 15-17 in Falmouth. One of the largest clubs in the school, VICA runs in-house competitions in leadership and technical skills; finalists go on to district, state and sometimes national competition for prizes and scholarships.

Altron reports good 3rd quarter earnings

Merger with Sammins Corp. could be final in November

WILMINGTON — Altron Incorporated, recently announced its financial results for the third quarter, and nine-month period ended Oct. 3.

Sales for the quarter were $51.8 million as compared to $41.5 million for the third quarter of 1997. Net income was $2.7 million, or $0.17 per diluted share, for the quarter compared to $3.5 million, or $0.22 per dilute share for the third quarter of 1997.

Sales for the nine-month period were $154.0 million compared to $125.3 million for the same period last year. Net income for the first nine-months of 1998 was $9.9 million, or $0.62 per dilute share, compared to net income of $11.5 million, or $0.72 per dilute share for the first nine months of 1997.

On Sept. 2, Altron and Sammins Corporation signed a definitive agreement to merge. The transaction is expected to close in November of 1998.

Samuel Altschuler, chairman and president, stated that the higher sales for the third quarter and nine-months resulted, primarily, from increased shipments of value-added assembly products to the company's larger customers in the communications and computer segments of the electronics industry.

Earnings for the quarter and nine-month period were impacted by a shift in mix and pricing pressure related to the printed circuit board business. Also impacted were higher costs due to the company's investment in equipment and facilities to further increase capacity and capabilities.

The company continues to maintain a strong balance sheet. For the quarter ended Oct. 3, working capital was $64.6 million with a current ratio of 3:8.

Representative Jim Miceli understands what's important to families in our district ...and it shows.

He knows what to do to create jobs, to increase local aid to our communities and to give taxpayers a needed break.

- Worked hard to secure increases in Local Aid assistance for Tewksbury & Wilmington and funding for Sewer rate relief, local road and bridge projects, local library improvements and snow removal.
- Voted for the largest tax cut in the history of the Commonwealth.
- Helped establish a Fiscal Policy which will attract and keep companies in Massachusetts and for the first time obligates them to create jobs in this state.

He shares our concern about education and the need to give our children the skills and training they need to succeed.

- Worked to secure Education Reform Funding for initiatives in our local schools and increased funding for out State's Higher Education Institutions. Also passed legislation affecting charter and Horace Mann schools.
- Fought to get Tuition Tax Credits and to enhance funding for scholarships and no-interest loan assistance for working families faced with high college costs.
- Supported increased funding for early childhood education, adult basic education, job training initiatives and adult literacy programs.
- Helped create the Education Technology Board which will assist our communities in funding computerization and technology advances in our schools.

He understands our worry about health care and public safety...and he is doing something about it.

- Worked hard for Non-Group Insurance reform to protect people from losing coverage because of job change, age or preexisting conditions.
- Supported HMO Reform.
- Supported strengthening Domestic Violence Prevention programs.
- Helped secure increased funding for Community Policing initiatives and additional resources targeted at juvenile offenders. He also fought for the full funding of the Quinn Bill which helps communities pay incentives to police officers who pursue higher education.

A week of spirit at Wilmington High School

By: COLLEEN MURPHY

WILMINGTON - October 19th started Spirit week 1998 at Wilmington High School. Spirit week started in 1996, and is held the week of the Homecoming Football game. This week usually consists of many school wide contests and activities, and is ended on Friday with a Pep rally and a dance. This week is very important to Wilmington High School students and faculty, because it gives everyone a chance to show some school spirit, and to have fun!

Each day of spirit week has a different theme, and the students dress up according to that theme. Monday was Pajama Day, and students as well as faculty are asked to come to school in their pajamas.

Tuesday was Armed Forces Day. On Armed Forces Day, students are asked to represent any group from the armed forces. Wednesday was Class Day. The Freshman had Crazy Sock Day, The Sophomores had Celebrity Look-a-like Day. The Juniors had Hawaiian Day, and the Senior had Punk Rocker Day.

Thursday was Costume Day. Students came into school in their Halloween costumes. Friday was Blue and White day. This day was especially important because it showed the most school spirit. The end of the day brought a Fall Sports Pep Rally. At the Pep Rally, sports teams were commended for their efforts in this season.

There were also prizes given to the students who showed the most creativity or school spirit that week. The students who were awarded for their costumes of the week were given gift certificates from Burger King. There were also students who were voted as having the most school spirit. These winners were Senior Amy Horan, and Junior Jim Tabor. Each of these students were chosen because of their creative and constant participation in Spirit week.

Another large part of spirit week is the decoration of the school. Each class receives its own wall to decorate. The classes make posters, hang up decorations, and show off their school spirit. Many clubs and activities also have their own wall. For example, the band and the colorguard had their own special hallway this year. There was also an award that was given out for best wall. The Sophomores won this year for the best wall.

On Friday night, the homecoming dance was held in the Wilmington High School gym. This was a night of fun with music, and dancing. The homecoming court was also announced at the dance. The members of the court this year are: Melissa Wolfe, Brian Shea, Laura Winn, Dave Diamatto, Kelly Cochrane, Ryan Clancy, Amanda Lojek, David Senario, Nicole Schelle, Eric Hiltz, Angela Downs, and Mike Gennetti. The King and Queen of the Homecoming of 1998 are Mark DiGiovanni, and Megan Lojek. These students were also announced and crowned at the football game on Saturday. The wonderful ending to a wonderful week came when the Wildcats defeated Hamilton Wenham (33-6).

Many people worked on the creation, and running of spirit week. I would personally like to thank Mr. Woods, Mr. Lucia, all of the class officers, all of the class advisors, cheerleaders, students, teachers, and especially Mr. Nee, and Mrs. Cosman. They do so much work for Spirit Week that "Thank you" just doesn't seem like enough.

Spirit week is a week that I look forward to every year. I'm looking forward to my next and last Spirit Week in 1999!

After a week of face painting, and dressing to chosen themes, students at WHS finished off "Spirit Week" with a rally that was held in the schools gymnasium last Friday. Shown left to right are: Andy Hackett, Josh Hiltz, and Josh Howlett. (Maureen Lamoureux photo)

Teen video contest to target smoking

WILMINGTON - Hollywood would have us believe that smoking is on the rise. Despite the prevalence of smoking in movies, the general population is smoking at lower rates. In addition, not all teenagers smoke, nor do they all think it's cool to do so. According to the 1997 Massachusetts Youth risk behavior survey conducted by the Department of Education, only 15 percent of Massachusetts teenagers reported smoking cigarettes every day. In fact, teenagers can be (and in many cases already are) the most effective tobacco control advocates we have.

Teenagers need to be given the opportunity to dispel the myths that all teenagers think smoking is cool. As a means of doing this, the Massachusetts Tobacco Control Program (MTCP) is sponsoring a pilot video contest for students in grades 9-12 that will allow this age group to actively participate in the campaign against the tobacco industry. The videos should focus on deglamorizing tobacco use among youth. The hope is that through this contest, youth will think critically about the underlying tobacco messages they see in the movies and create a positive anti-tobacco message for their peers.

The video guidelines for the contest are: be 25 or 55 seconds in length; must be original; can be in any language; can target diverse populations; focus on deglamorizing tobacco use among youth.

The videos can be done as part of a high school class (drama, social studies, language/arts, health education, media literacy...), within a school or community club, by youth groups or sports teams. Youth are also welcome to take on the project individually. Entries are due by December 1 and will be showcased at a film festival in early 1999. Contest winners will be chosen on the basis of educational content, relevance, and originality. The grand prize winner will have their video shown on Channel 5, WCVB, as part of their HealthBeat Project sponsored by Tufts Health Plan and BankBoston.

The Wilmington Tobacco Control Program is available to provide additional information regarding the contest as well as be a resource for tobacco education materials. Registration to participate in the contest is required, therefore interested groups should contact the tobacco control program at 658-7228 to receive registration materials.

The video contest is a great opportunity for youth to stand up and send a message to the tobacco industry. We are all not buying what they're selling! Despite what you see in the movies, or on the street corner, smoking is not cool. Let the tobacco industry and Hollywood know that teenagers have a much more powerful message to send!

Video Explorers Club gets boost from Chamber of Commerce

WILMINGTON - The Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors recently approved a donation of $500 to WCTV's Video Explorers Club. This is the second year the board has voted to support what they feel is a successful program that benefits the youth of Wilmington.

In a letter of appreciation, WCTV President Jolene Meixler explains that the Video Explorers Club gives students an opportunity to express themselves through video, teaches them responsibility and teamwork, and provides them an overall sense of achievement.

According to John Vassallo, Chamber President and Chairman of the Community Relations Committee, the Chamber has contributed so far this year, over $5,400 to various community programs an high school scholarships. For more information about the Chamber's Community Relations Program and other services the Chamber provides, call Executive Director Sandy Murphy, at 978-657-7211.

Salvatore F. Cogliano

at 70, member Northeast Live Steamers, Model Railroad Club

TEWKSBURY - Salvatore F. Cogliano, 70, died unexpectedly in his home workshop Wednesday afternoon, October 21, 1998, after suffering an apparent heart attack.

Born in Boston December 28, 1927, he was the son of Francis and Frances Cogliano. After high school, he joined the U.S. Navy and served between World War II and the Korean Conflict. He also attended Northeastern University. He was a Tewksbury resident since 1970.

Mr. Cogliano was employed as an electronic engineer for several area companies including K.L.H. Corporation, Inforex Corporation, and Computervision in Bedford. After retirement he worked as an alternator and starter remanufacturer in his home workshop.

He was a member of the Northeast Live Steamers, Model Railroad Club, a ham radio operator using the call sign WIUCP, and was actively restoring a 1928 Model A Ford in his garage.

He is survived by one daughter and son-in-law, Cathleen and Kenneth Bilich of Methuen, one son, Shane F. Cogliano of Tewksbury; three sisters, Mary Aniello of Fla., Alfina Correnti of Calif., Lucille Fazio of Somerville, one grandson, Spencer Bilich of Methuen.

He was also the former husband of Kathleen (Low) Ralls of Lowell; father of the late Sean Cogliano who died last June 23 and brother of the late Nick DeFazio and Anthony Cogliano.

His funeral mass was Saturday, October 24 at noon in St. William's Church followed by burial in Tewksbury Cemetery. Arrangements were under the direction of the Tewksbury Funeral Home.

Mary A. Cuoco

at 101, 75 years in Wilmington, four great-great grandchildren

WILMINGTON - Mary A. (Orso) Cuoco, 101 years, of Wilmington, died October 24, 1998 at Wingate at Andover Nursing Home.

Born in Italy, December 17, 1896, she was the daughter of the late Vincent and the late Maria Orso. She lived in Wilmington for over 75 years where she and her husband raised their 11 children.

Mrs. Cuoco was the widow of Eupleo Cuoco and is survived by her children John Cuoco of Fl., Joseph Cuoco, Eleanor Doyle and Albert Cuoco all of Wilmington, James Cuoco of Reading and Della Neagle of KY; 27 grandchildren; 33 great-grandchildren and four great-great-grandchildren.

She was also the mother of the late Gus Cuoco, the late Dolly Cuoco and the late Anna Mirisola all of Wilmington and the late Rosalie Antonellis of Newton and the late Edward Cuoco of Dracut.

Her funeral was held from the W.S. Cavanaugh & Son Funeral Home, Wilmington Tuesday morning followed by a funeral mass at St. Thomas Church and interment in the family lot, Wildwood Cemetery.

Donations made in her memory to the Merrimack Valley Hospice, One Water Street, Haverhill, MA 01830, will be appreciated.

Frances Sardynski

at 78, worked for Armour Meat

WILMINGTON - Frances (Ulbin) Sardynski, 78, of Wilmington, formerly of Revere, died October 20, 1998 at Winchester Hospital.

Born in Chelsea, she was the daughter of the late Frank and the late Stella (Pianoski) Ulbin. She lived in Revere for many years prior to moving to Wilmington 16 years ago. Prior to retirement, Mrs. Sardynski was employed by the Armour Meat Company.

Mrs. Sardynski is survived by her husband Stanley Sardynski; her son Richard Sardynski and his wife Barbara both of Wilmington; her granddaughters Kimberly MacInnis and her husband John both of Woburn and Kristen Sardynski of Wilmington; her great-granddaughter Samantha Michelle MacInnis of Woburn; her sisters Victoria Donovan of Malden, Edna Cronin and her husband Joseph both of Chelsea and her brother Chester Ulbin of Armond Beach, Fla. Mrs. Sardynski was also the sister of the late Stella Iacono of Marlboro.

Her funeral was held from the W.S. Cavanaugh & Son Funeral Home, Saturday morning followed by a funeral mass at St. Dorothy's Church at 10 and interment in the family lot, Wildwood Cemetery.

Donations made in her memory to the American Cancer Society, 66Y Concord St., Wilmington, MA 01887 will be appreciated.

Karen Ventre

at 42, worked as screen printer

WILMINGTON - Karen (Anderson) Ventre, 42, of Wilmington, died October 24, 1998 at Winchester Hospital.

Born in Woburn she was the daughter of Nancy Anderson of Still River, MA and the late Warren Anderson. She lived in Wilmington most of her life and had been employed as a screen printer.

Mrs. Ventre is survived by her husband Andrew Ventre; her children Andrew R. Ventre, Jr., Kevin W. Ventre, Chrystal Lynn Ventre and Steven S. Ventre all of Wilmington and her sisters and brothers Gail Anderson of Ware, David Anderson of Lowell, Jeannie LeBlanc of Townsend and Mark Anderson of Still River.

Funeral services for Mrs. Ventre were held from the W.S. Cavanaugh & Son Funeral Home of Wilmington, Wednesday morning followed by a funeral mass at St. Dorothy's Church and interment in the family lot Wildwood Cemetery, Wilmington.

Stephen J. Shanley

at 73, lifelong Tewksbury resident

TEWKSBURY - Stephen Joseph "Toby" Shanley, 73, died Tuesday evening, October 20, 1998 at his Tewksbury residence following a courageous one year fight with cancer. He was the widower of June D. Shanley who died in 1990.

Born in Tewksbury October 10, 1925, he was the son of the late William and Anna (Page) Shanley. He was a lifelong resident of Tewksbury and graduated from Tewksbury High School. He later attended Peterson's School for stationary firemen and engineers. He served in the U.S. Navy during WWII, aboard the U.S.S. John D. Edwards in the North Atlantic.

He retired from the General Services Administration branch of the U.S. Government as a stationary engineer. His career began at the Watertown Arsenal, moved to the Custom House Tower in Boston, and ended at the Internal Revenue Service Center in Andover. He also worked part time for John Doerr and Sons painting contractors and was a communicant of St. William's Church.

Mr. Shanley is survived by one son and daughter-in-law, Dennis P. and Patricia (Cabana) Shanley of Bedford, N.H.; two daughters and sons-in-law, Donna M. and Robert Marciniak of Peterborough, N.H. and Debra A. Flynn of Tewksbury; nine grandchildren, Paul and his wife Maria (Tugwell) Shanley, Kelley and Alison Shanley, Kristopher, Korey and Kalan Marciniak, Erin, Kerry and Colleen Flynn; three sisters Dorothy Menard of Lowell, Doris Gauthier of Dracut, Ann Cavanaugh of Milford, N.H., three brothers, Raymond Shanley of Billerica, James Shanley and Michael Shanley both of Lowell and a dear friend Alice (Gath) Pollinger of Tewksbury.

He was also the grandfather of the late Daniel Joseph Flynn and brother of the late William Shanley and Rita Feeney.

His funeral was held Friday morning in St. William's Church followed by burial in Tewksbury Cemetery. Arrangements were under the direction of the Tewksbury Funeral Home.

Robert S. White

worked for Moynihan Lumber

BEVERLY - Robert Sanderson White, Sr., 69 of Friend Street, Beverly, a retired truck driver and husband of Rachel H. (Hannus) White, died unexpectedly Sunday evening, October 25, 1998 in the Beverly Hospital.

Born in Woburn, he was the son of the late John A. and Georgianna (Sanderson) White, he was raised in Wilmington and received his education in the Wilmington school system.

An honorably discharged veteran, he served his country during the Korean Conflict as a member of the United States Army and National Guard.

Mr. White had been employed for 16 years at the Moynihan Lumber Company in Beverly and North Reading, until the time of his retirement in 1994.

Active in the church, he was a member of the Bible Chapel of the North Shore, where he served as deacon and head usher.

In addition to his wife, with whom he shared 41 years of marriage, he is survived by two daughters and sons-in-law, Lois Ann and Russell Philbrick of Vergennes, Vt. and Betty Jean and Robert Belair of Winter Gardens, Fla; two sons and daughters-in-law, Robert S. White Jr. and Lucille White of Newton, N.H. and Richard J. and Holly White of Beverly; nine grandchildren, one sister, Violet Wood of Middlebury, Vt., three brothers, John White and George White both of Wilmington and Charles White of Wakefield, N.H.; several nieces and nephews. He was also the brother of the late Ernest White and twin brother, Richard White.

His memorial service will be held in the Church of the Open Bible, corner of Winn Street and Wyman Street, Burlington Saturday at 10 a.m. Relatives and friends invited. Burial will be private. Arrangements were under the direction of the Peterson-O'Donnell Funeral Home of Danvers.

Expressions of sympathy may be made in his memory to the Bible Chapel of the North Shore, Building Fund c/o the Rev. Kenneth Lawson, 12 Bridge St., Beverly, MA 01915.

Fall membership drive underway for Tewksbury Business Association

TEWKSBURY - The Tewksbury Business Association is in the midst of their fall membership drive, and the group welcomed new associates at their breakfast meeting of October 21. "The drive has been going very well," said Kay Silk, membership director. "We have had a lot of interest as a result of some recent news articles, and we've just about doubled our membership."

Those in attendance welcomed Town Manager, David Cressman, who spoke about issues affecting the local business community, and presented a very positive review of the town's status and future direction. He brought along a promotional video commissioned to showcase Tewksbury's many attractions as a place to live and work. Designed to foster economic development, the video was funded by a corporate donation. His presentation was well received, and there was a lively question and answer period. Discussion about building awareness of the association and being supportive community members followed.

The Tewksbury Business Association offers the opportunity to share professional support with others doing business in Tewksbury. An active schedule and presentations by guest speakers informs and educates the membership. Those doing business in Tewksbury are invited to contact Kay Silk at 851-7532.

Feathered guests at our backyard banquet

by HUGH WIBERG

Mid to late October is the right time here in Central New England to hang out the bird feeders, thereby assisting our native birds to get through another harsh winter.

Yes, the great majority of our feathered winter visitors can survive quite nicely to spring, yet there is no doubt that they do appreciate our consistent support "when the going gets tough."

I like to think, when setting out the feeders, that we are embarking on a six month treasure hunt right here in our suburban backyards. You never know when an unusual winter visitor will show up. Last winter here in Wilmington and Tewksbury the "unusual visitors" included Carolina wrens, red bellied woodpeckers, and unfortunately, several sharp shinned hawks. And, of course, we never know when a wild turkey, now becoming fairly common in the Merrimack Valley, will wander through the neighborhood. Chestnut Street in Wilmington, out toward the Burlington line, is one area in particular where turkeys are seen with increasing regularity.

It is important that our feeders are squeaky clean to start off the feeding season. If you have not cleaned your feeders within the last three months, do so now. I like to submerge my feeders in scalding water to which two or three cups of bleach has been added. Let stand for an hour, then thoroughly rinse several times and let dry. You are now ready to add seed and hang the feeders. I do not recommend using the common "mixed" bird seed, since this mixture contains high percentages of the tiny tan milo and millet seeds, which most winter birds do not like. (The ground feeders, sparrows, juncos and mourning doves, will pick up the milo and millet seeds, but so will grey squirrels, which most folks can well do without.)

Sharon Barron's "pet' is a wild turkey which has been a regular house guest since July this year. This bird, unlike his cousins on the farm appears not to be flightless

Buy the small black "oil" sunflower seeds, the larger the container, the less expensive. The great majority of winter birds are very happy with sunflower seeds, including chickadees, tufted titmice, nuthatches, blue jays, woodpeckers, cardinals and finches. Roughly 80 percent of your visitors will be a mixture of these seven or eight species.

Again this year I will conduct an informal inventory of bird species seen in our backyards. This list will include just those birds seen at the feeders and on the ground under the feeders. We will not include hawks, owls, and gulls, except to mention them as "unusual visitors."

I will start by listing the species I have seen so far in October. In no special order, we have seen chickadees, titmice, white breasted nuthatches, blue jays, cardinals, English sparrows, white throated sparrows, downy and hairy woodpeckers, starlings, juncos, mourning doves, goldfinches, house finches, and mockingbirds. (I am not including purple grackles since "our" flock of 20 or so should be departing for Florida soon.

If you can add to this list of 15, please call me evenings between 7 and 10, and we will include them and credit you in next month's column. I would guess that we will be up to 25 species by April. My phone number is 658-5852.

Acknowledging recent contacts; Sharon Barron of Parker Street in Wilmington has had a wild turkey around her home this summer to keep her company, and Tom Walsh of Ferguson Road, Wilmington (a frequent contributor) sent me a photo of an indigo bunting at his feeder, several months ago. Buntings are rarely seen locally, and this was a treat. Tom also spotted a cormorant in the pond across from the Wilmington police station back in July. I believe this "sea duck" is still hanging around, which is quite unusual, since Cormorants are most often seen along the shore and in salt water bays and marshes.

Back again on November 26. In the meanwhile, don't be bashful - give me a call if you can add to our inventory.

Elks sponsor most valuable student scholarship

TEWKSBURY/WILMINGTON - The BPO Elks of the USA will award nearly $2.1 million in college scholarships to a total of 500 high school seniors through its 1999 "Most Valuable Student" scholarship contest.

The contest is open to students in the graduating class of a high school, or its equivalent, who are citizens of the United States and residents within the jurisdiction of the BPO Elks of the USA. Applications will be available at the Elks' home page, www.elks.org, in mid-October at either local Elks lodges or local high schools after November 1. Contact Tewksbury/Wilmington Elks Lodge No. 2070 at 508/657-6333 for more information.

The deadline for this year's contest will be January 15, 1999. Completed applications must be turned into the scholarship chairman, Exalted Ruler or secretary of the local Elks Lodge.

Male and female students will compete separately. Applicants will be judged on financial need, leadership and scholarship. The Elks National Foundation, the charitable arm of the BPO Elks of the USA, will award scholarships to the top 500 applicants. The top male and female student will receive scholarships of $7,500 a year for four years. The second place male and female will receive $4,000 a year for four years, and the third place male and female will receive $3,000 a year for four years. The Foundation will also award 494 scholarships of $1,000 a year for four years. The 500 winners will be announced in May 1999.

Through this "Most Valuable Student" competition and its four other scholarship programs, the Elks National Foundation annually awards nearly $3.2 million in college scholarships. In addition, many state Elks associations and local lodges offer scholarships. The Elks National Foundation also funds veterans service, drug education, youth athletic programs, aid for people with disabilities, and other charitable and philanthropic programs. The Elks National Foundation will distribute more than $12.6 million this year in support of these programs.

The BPO Elks of the USA is headquartered at 2750 N. Lakeview Ave., Chicago, IL 60614.

& Nine Other Good Reasons To Make Her Our State Senator

1. Sue Tucker has proven experience.
Sue Tucker has worked in both the public and private sector, in the Legislature, in education and for the community.

2. She knows how to get things done in the Legislature.
Sue Tucker served eight years as State Representative. That experience will help our communities secure the funding needed for schools and public services.

3. She cares about improving education.
Sue Tucker is a former teacher. She is committed to improving education for all students, from early childhood through college.

4. She shares our concern about health care.
Sue Tucker will be a strong advocate for affordable, accessible health care and for patients' rights.

5. She understands the importance of small business and economic development to our communities.
Sue Tucker served six years on Andover's Industrial Development Commission. She started her own small business. She'll be responsive to local business needs.

6. She is fiscally responsible.
Sue Tucker supported numerous tax cuts for families and small businesses and the establishment of the "rainy day" fund which protects local aid. She will fight to roll back the 1990 "temporary" tax increase that citizens were promised.

7. She cares about keeping our environment healthy.
Sue Tucker was named 'Legislator of the Year" by the Environmental Lobby of MA. She will work hard to ensure the health and safety of our communities.

8. She pays attention to the people she represents.
We can count on Sue Tucker to be there whenever we need her and to work hard for our communities. She will be a full-time senator for us.

9. She means what she says.
No fast talk. No double talk. Just straight talk. Sue Tucker keeps her word.

Zany, crazy, swinging, honky-tonk blues - Cousins Wayne (l) and Paul (r) Fleury, otherwise known as the band "Tonk-A-Billy," perform their unique music stylings during their set at the Knights of Columbus on Saturday. (Courtesy photo)

The Unpredictable

Tonk-A-Billy having fun

By: AMY PETERSON

TEWKSBURY - While chasing a dream, one sometimes finds a reality of another dream along the road to success. This reality for Tewksbury musician / songwriters Paul and Wayne Fleury just happened to come as a result of advice from a big time song publisher from Nashville, Tennessee.

If you are not yet familiar with this extraordinary pair, become acquainted now because it may not be long before they are sitting at the TNN Country Music Awards in Nashville, receiving accolades for writing the number one hit song of the year. It may actually even be three hit songs, if all goes well. They have just sold a three- year exclusive for their songs, "More Itch Than Fingernail", "Diddlelee Bop Bop Doo" and "Hillbillie Babies", to Woodrich Publishing Company of Alabama, who is now shopping their songs to acts in Australia and the United Kingdom.

The songwriting duo have been marketing demo tapes of their songs to publishers for a couple years now, hoping for that big break to land them in the big seat. Most of the time there was no response, if there was, it came mailed in the form of "needs work" scribbled on a small piece of paper.

However, country music publishing guru, Scott Turner, offered more than just a rejection to their demos. He offered advice.

"This guy actually took the time out to help us improve our song. He would fill up the tape on the opposite side of the demos with his voice, telling us what to improve or change," Wayne said. "That is very uncommon in this business."

Turner labeled the pair's song, "Diddlelee Bop Bop Doo", as a song with a unique feel and nostalgic memorabilia.

"He said he really liked our music," Wayne said. On one of the tapes he suggested that instead of just writing the songs to be published, that we become our own act."

Hillbilly Honky Tonk musicians from Massachusetts? Who did this guy think he was talking to? These were the maiden thoughts crossing Wayne's mind. Yet, after some heavy contemplation, he knew they could make it happen. It had been a while since their early days of performing in front of a live audience, but you never really lose that touch. "We are just going to do it for fun," he said.

So it was done, the creation of the two-piece band Tonk-A- Billy, that is. The only concern: could they find an audience receptive to the rockabilly excursion they were prepared to deliver? "Tonk-A-Billy is to us a mix of 40's swing and Honky Tonk with an edge. It is not the kind of music you get up and dance to, it's the kind you sit back and have a few cocktails and enjoy," Wayne said. "Our music is zany, crazy, swinging, honky-tonk blues."

The audience receptiveness test came Sat. night when they duo performed a private show at the Wilmington Knights of Columbus.

Wayne said, "We knew that we had to do something different so we got a book of off-the-wall marketing scams. From that we created our own set."

The stage was like a scene from a rustic Honky Tonk joint from the days of old. Typical of what you would see in an old movie. The stage, clad with fuzzy dice, 1950's microphones with old hubcaps utilized as platforms on the bottom of the stands, a 1940 antique radio, and speakers covered in cow-patches, brought a Honky-Tonk revival and pure entertainment to the 100 or so spectators who came to soak in the cultural experience.

"We want to take our music to another level," Wayne said, "Anything you can tonk, we'll do it." Saturday night's set included tonked renditions of Garth Brook's "Two Pina-Coladas" and "Friends in Low Places" of course their original "Diddlelee Bop Bop Doo".

No, these guys do not want to be viewed as just another house band. "To hear it is to love it," Wayne said. "Tonk- A - Billy is not like other bands out there, we want to create the different feel. If we were performing at a bar, we would want someone to just walk by and become interested before even hearing us."

With the stage ensemble they have synthesized, you can rest assured that there will be more than enough triple takes from any passerby.

What's next you ask in the agenda for the honky-tonkin' cousins? It appears now, they will continue the songwriting, and begin to induct themselves into the world of live performances once again, but don't expect to see them just anywhere performing just anything.

Wayne said, "Tonk-A-Billy will perform the stuff that nobody does. Where is the creativity if we do what everybody else is doing? We make it a point to do just the opposite. I feel we are moving in a forward direction now. The dream has changed, but it is more focused."

They are Tonk-A-Billy: two guys with guitars, out to have as much fun as they can.

Doherty and Connor named teenagers of the month at Shawsheen Tech

TEWKSBURY/WILMINGTON - Kelley Doherty of Tewksbury and Jeffrey Connor of Wilmington, active Shawsheen Tech citizens and high honor roll students have been named "Teenagers of the Month" for October, through a program sponsored by the Billerica Lodge of Elks.

Kelley, daughter of Susan and Paul Doherty, is the top ranked senior in her class, a member of the school's Technical Skills Honor Society, a peer leader since 10th grade, a peer pal for the third year, class treasurer and a member of Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA). She is also captain of the varsity volleyball and softball teams, sports she has played for Shawsheen since ninth grade. She also played two years of junior varsity basketball.

Specializing in Health Technology, Kelley has a clear career goal: to become a physical therapist. She has been looking at such programs at Quinnipiac College, University of New England, Northeastern and UMass, Lowell. "I wanted to meet new people and find out about something I would want to do after high school," says Kelley of her choice of Shawsheen. Kelley says she has accomplished both goals, with many new friends "from all over," and an excellent technical program that exposed her to various aspects of health occupations.

Twice a member of Shawsheen Tech's outstanding Health Occupations Knowledge Bowl team, she won a gold medal at the VICA state competition in 10th grade and national bronze; last year her team took silver at the state contest. She hopes to compete and recapture the first place medal at the state finals this year, and again compete at nationals for a medal, something Shawsheen has done for eight years of the past decade.

Jeff, son of Charles and Laura Connor, is specializing in electrical, a field he chose because "time flies by; it is good, honest work. I feel like I am accomplishing something, doing productive work that helps people." Jeff continues to hone his skills as a participant in the Cooperative Education Program (co-op) by working at DiNardo Electric. He intends to take his skills a step further by pursuing a degree in electrical engineering. He is considering programs at Suffolk, Brandeis, Tufts, and UMass, Lowell, where he also hopes to play basketball "if I can achieve the right balance."

Jeff Connor

Basketball was actually Jeff's impetus for coming to Shawsheen, where he felt he had a good chance of becoming a starting player. Today he is captain of the team and last year won the Northeastern Student Athlete Award. He is a Tech Prep ambassador and was a leadership academy participant in last year's statewide Tech Prep program. An excellent student, his class rank is three, and he has been on the honor roll since his freshman year. A member of VICA, he won a bronze medal in residential wiring at the district competition last year and intends to enter a leadership category this year. He is also in the peer pal program. In addition to basketball, he enjoys golf and running in his leisure time.

Dan Trainor, Shawsheen Guidance Counselor who coordinates the awards program, said nominations are made by teachers on the basis of scholastic achievement, vocational ability, character, leadership and community activities. The Elks Lodge selects the senior of the year, who receives a scholarship from the fraternal organization.

Fenway proposal still stalled meeting.

Applicant David Middleton also needed a continuance for the public hearing on the notice of intent for 937 Main Street. Keeley said that he had discouraged him from attending the meeting because of several areas of disagreement.

"He doesn't have an approved septic system, never mind an approved location," said Keeley. He also said that Middleton has proposed additional wetland alterations that the commission wouldn't be able to allow.

Because of repeated requests to extend his hearing, the continuance was issued until the November 18th meeting on the understanding that this would be his last extension.

"We should let him know — now — that there's problems," said James Morris, the commission's Chairman.

Richard Stuart, the applicant for 1 Isabella Way, brought amended plot plans. A dry well had been added.

"It's the only change we made," said Stuart.

Even so, Keeley said that the previous plan did a better job of diverting water. That plan directed water across the driveway, for its length, into the stone apron beside it. This prompted discussion about the amount and direction of the water runoff.

"I thought the dry well was just a safety valve, because the neighbors had some concerns about the water there," said Morris. "The dry well's not supposed to get a lot of runoff."

Keeley and Morris both agreed that they needed to see a cross-section of the driveway that included the pitch measurements.

"If you pitch the driveway correctly, you might not need the dry well," said Morris. He made it clear that they wanted to see "the water kept off West Street, period."

Commission members continued the notice of intent to the next meeting. If the driveway measurements are approved at that time, they indicated that they would likely close the public hearing as other considerations, such as the wetlands setback, were in order.

Tennessee Gas Pipeline Company also invited commission members to a Nov. 13th public awareness meeting. Although the invitation includes few details, some area residents have been notified that the company intends to remove trees and shrubs on their rights of way and easement areas along the pipeline.

Commission members asked Keeley to go to the November meeting, but to ask Tennessee Gas if it would present its plans to the Conservation Commission directly.

"Much of the pipeline goes through [Wilmington] conservation land," said Morris. "Suggest to them that if they intend to clear cut and mow through Wilmington, that they should come and talk to us."

Previous requests resolved

Applicant Rose Wallent's submitted plans for 424 Middlesex Ave. were also approved at the public hearing. All conditions the commission had asked for were satisfied.

The deck at 19 Cedar St., the subject of much discussion at the last meeting, will be changed to conform to the agreed-upon 24-ft setback from the wetlands. Builder Joseph Brown submitted revised plans that substantially reduced the size of the deck, among other changes. The revised plan met all of the commission's requirements. Brown also said that new owner was well aware of the deck problem long before the property's closing date. Once the deck is completed, Brown can apply for a certificate of compliance.

Additional business

Four lots on Cherokee Lane were asked to provide insignificant changes on the plans before the commission would issue certificates of compliance. The original plans of record differed from the plans submitted for review. Decks were added to all four lot plans, retaining walls added to two lots and a wider driveway added to one. However, the lots did meet wetland setback requirements, and the grading was not as close to the wetlands as originally proposed.

Orders of condition were approved for 1, 2, 3, and 5 Isabella Way, as well as for 57 Clark St. Michael Elia was also granted a year's extension for 383 Middlesex Avenue.

Jolene Lewis and Keeley joined other residents in a hike through the town forest on Sunday, October 18th. Rick Barry of Camp 40 Acres led about 60 people along the trails. Lewis and Keeley described the event and noted the lack of public access to the forest.

Sweetheart alive and well

al and manufacturing buildings, and tries to maintain the occupancy of these buildings and the jobs they provide. GFI is also in the process of renovating and refurbishing the Burlington Ave. buildings, in order to make them more attractive to interested businesses like California Products.

But some town officials have criticized California Products plans to move into town, saying that their products pose a hazard to nearby residents and environments.

"I strongly oppose California Products moving into Wilmington, because they offer nothing positive to the community" Miceli said.

Miceli said after the Olin Corporation, formerly of Ames Street, released a plume of chemicals under Route 38, the town will not greet another company producing hazardous substances with open arms.

"I think we've learned our lesson, this company would be a threat to our environment," Miceli said.

Fire Chief Dan Stewart has also said the Burlington Ave. location may be an unsuitable location for California Products, because the building was intended to hold packaged plastics and not hazardous materials. California Products will also produce some flammable products, which Stewart said could threaten abutting wetlands, residents and rail lines.

If California Products was only planning to relocate its headquarters to the Sweetheart building, then there wouldn't be a problem, but the manufacturing and storage of paint and surfacing products in that location is unacceptable, Miceli said.

But California Products has had a good safety record in Cambridge, where the company is located on either side of Waverly Street.

California Products Executive Vice President Joe Deangelis said only one percent of the company's product is flammable, and said the company currently operates close to residential areas, and poses no threat to the abutting environment, neighbors, neighborhoods or rail lines.

Wilmington to get bus money

WILMINGTON- While most people bring milk money to school, U,S, Rep. John Tierney (D-Salem) brought bus money.

Wilmington and a dozen other communities in Tierney's district will be able to purchase new vans and buses for local transport services with $3,128,000 in federal funds.

Wilmington will receive $208,000, which will allow the town to purchase four new vans or buses, to ensure continued, reliable transportation services for school children and the elderly, Tierney said.

Town transportation director Jim Gillis said the money will help to update the school's aging fleet of buses.

The federal funds will cover 80 percent of a new vehicles cost, and local cities and towns will pay the remaining 20 percent, which Gillis said was a good deal.

According to Gillis, he will meet with school Administration and Finance Director Brad Jackson and Town Manager Mike Caira will look into ways to use the money. Gillis had planned to apply to the town for two new vans or minibuses in the next town budget.

In addition to transporting students to and from schools, the new vehicles could also be used by the elderly, and by students in extracurricular activities such as cheerleading and golf.

Polls open Tuesday 7-8

WILMINGTON- Voters are reminded that polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Tuesday, November 3. Some polling places are located in school buildings, and classes will be in session for a full day schedule.

Precincts 1 and 2 polls are at the West Intermediate School, 22 Carter Ln., and school buses arrive there between 7:20 and 7:40 a.m., and leave between 2:00 and 2:15 p.m.

Precincts 3 and 4 polls are at the Wildwood School, 182 Wildwood St., and school buses arrive there between 8:35 and 9:00 a.m., and leave between 3:00 and 3:15 p.m.

Precincts 5 and 6 polls are at town hall, 121 Glen Rd.

To avoid being inconvenienced, those with flexible schedules may find it easier to cast their ballots at times that do not conflict with school bus schedules. Also, to avoid lines at the polls, the best time to vote is in the late morning or the early afternoon.

If your employment or plans prevent any flexibility, you may want to allow extra time because of the buses, the lines, and potential traffic along Route 38.

Wilmington Library Notes

The history of Wilmington, Part II

WILMINGTON - Four Wilmington historians shared their stories and knowledge of Wilmington with an audience of 45 residents on Wednesday, October 21. Carolyn Harris, Chairman of the Wilmington Historical Commission, explained how and why the Historical Commission was formed and its role in the acquisition of the Harnden Tavern, the Arthur Thomas Bond Collection and the Marjorie H. Cotton Welch Collection.

Items from both collections are currently on display in the Bicentennial Room. Frank Curley, Captain of the Wilmington Minutemen, in his Colonial garb, took the audience back in time to the Revolutionary War. Gerry O'Reilly highlighted his experience in putting together two photographic books depicting Wilmington's past - Wilmington: A Retrospective and Silver Lake Revisited. Paul Chalifour, the author of Images of America: Wilmington, discussed his book and the steps that led to its publication.

Thanks to the Friends of the Library for arranging this program and for providing delicious pies and treats for the refreshment table. Also, thank you to Sandra Curtin, Cheryl Soderquist and Paul Curtin for video taping the program which can be viewed in a few weeks on WCTV.

Aquarium pass is back!

Thanks to the Elementary School PACS at the Woburn Street, Wildwood and Shawsheen Schools for once again funding the New England Aquarium pass and the Boston Children's Museum pass. These passes may be reserved by calling the library at 659-2967. Please note that the New England Aquarium now uses a "coupon" system similar to the Museum of Science. The Aquarium charges $2 admission fee with each coupon. For an average family of four, these passes represent a savings of about $16 for the Aquarium and $22 for the Children's Museum. With library museum passes, more families have the opportunity to visit a variety of Boston museums. A flyer listing all passes is available at the library.

November events

The library publishes a monthly calendar of events with dates and library information. Thanks to Gloria Corcoran for her creative computer skills in producing this flyer. The November Calendar which is now available includes the following special events:

Monday, November 9 at 7 p.m., "Treasures in Your Attic" with Ron Wackowski presented by the Friends of the Library and the Friends of Harnden Tavern.

Thursday, November 12 at 7 p.m., "Amy Lechner Conley Singalong Concert, funded by the Community Partnerships for Children.

Thursday, November 19, 7 p.m., "Nature's Mysteries" with Davis Bates and Roger Ticknell, funded by the Wilmington Council for the Arts, supported by the Mass. Cultural Council.

Book storage needed

The Friends of the Library are looking for space to store books for their annual 4th of July Book Sale. If you have any ideas or can donate space, please call Karen Campbell, President of the Friends at 988-9264.

If you would like to donate books, please call the library first at 658-2967 before taking any boxes or bags of books to the library. Due to space limitations, the library can accept only a limited number of donations at a time. Old textbooks or damp and musty books are not accepted.

Lady of the woods

can bind them all together in manifestation," says the Lady of the Woods, a local witch who frequents the woods to collect the herbs of her trade. Their beliefs are much like those of the Native Americans who seek to harmonize with nature.

"Halloween, or 'Samhain' (pronounced 'sau-wen') as we call it, is a time for communication with and honoring of spirits that have passed on to the other side," says The Lady of the Wood. "It is our New Year high holiday and we celebrate the harvest, the resting of the Sun. It is a festive and joyous occasion. We set another place at the dinner table for the departed and welcome our ancestor's spirits back among us."

There are a total of eight high holidays, or "Sabbats" that are celebrated during the year, based upon the changes of the seasons. Witches celebrate these holidays in a variety of ways, ranging from personal rituals or in covens (groups) and can include scented candles or incense, bonfires, dancing, and music.

"There is no set rule for celebrations. Some witches are solitary, while others choose to meet in covens, or groups, to celebrate the rites of the religion," Says Ms DesRochiers. "The Wiccan religion is a spiritual culture. Those practicing it love and respect Nature and celebrate all things in it in their own way," she adds.

"'Yule' celebrates the winter solstice," says the Lady of the Woods. "It is a time of inward searching, a self-evaluation to be more in tune for the return of the Sun in the spring. 'Candlemas' is in February and is an awakening to prepare for Spring. 'Spring Equinox' celebrates the powerful transition from sleepy Yule to the explosive creation of Spring.. 'Beltane' or May-Day is celebrated at the beginning of May and is a celebration of Love and creation. Bon fires are lit and there are circle gatherings around it. Singing and dancing the maypole accompany the celebration," she adds.

"'Summer Solstice' celebrates the summer and the heat of the Gods. 'Lammas,' celebrates the beginning of harvest time and the death of the Corn King, and finally 'Fall Equinox,' is the balance, a moment in time of equality, and harmony," The Lady of the Woods says.

The predominant ritual form is a circle. According to Selena Fox, High Priestess of Circle Sanctuary, "The circle is used by individuals in personal rituals as well as by large and small groups for group rituals and festivals. The circle form facilitates shared experiences and encourages participation." It is used in Native American celebrations as well.

Part of contemporary Paganism (a Pagan is a person who isn't a Christian, Moslem, or Jew; one who has no religion, according to Webster's Dictionary), the Wiccan religion promotes harmony with nature and adheres to the Wiccan Rede that states "And it harm none, do what you will." "Most Wiccans acknowledge that whatever magical force is sent out returns three-fold to the sender. The Wiccan religion is pre-Christian and post-Christian, not anti-Christian. Wiccans do not perform evil magic and do not worship the devil or Satan, which is the anti-God of the Christians," according to witch Selena Fox, High priestess of Circle Sanctuary. "In order to worship Satan, you first must believe in Satan. Wiccans do not believe in Satan," says Ms. DesRochiers.

"Witchcraft is really a form of magic, the art of effecting change. It is what you believe will happen, a belief of the change and of the power of thought," says The Lady of the Woods. "Wiccans seek to develop their intuitive abilities and practice magic, directing psychic energy for particular healing and helping purposes," according to Fox.

"There is no such thing as the supernatural; there is only natural law. It's just that we have not yet discovered all the laws that the operate the universe," says Ms. DesRochiers. "We believe in the laws of physics; that for every action, there is an equal and opposite reaction. We work toward a spiritual harmony with the forces around us," she adds.

According to Ms. DesRochiers and the Lady of the Woods, many Wiccans are involved in nature preservation organizations and are the driving forces behind environmental protection laws as well as human rights protection. So, the next time you sit beside someone on the bus and strike up a pleasant conversation to pass the time, or stand behind someone in the grocery store line and exchange smiles, or meet a companion walking their dogs, you may just be meeting a witch. Diversity is what keeps everything in balance, including the peoples of the earth, and understanding, sharing and accepting this diversity will enrich our lives and make the world a better place for our children.

A poem to share the enchantment of Halloween:

SAMHAIN ROUND

And as the light around us fades
In golden shadows through the glade,
Like distant echoes down the hall,
We answer Samhain's ancient call.

From everlasting times 'til now,
To storied lands, we all must bow;
Where magic rings within our souls
And as we shatter, we are whole.

This is the night to join the Dance,
Partake in all-renewing trance;
Where worlds within and out are One,
Our sacred journey now begun.

To greet the ones we loved before,
Our kith and kin from days of yore,
Forgiven foe and long-lost friend,
We dwell among you yet again.

For now the worldly veils are thin,
Where hope and healing can begin.
Our deeds are done; the hour is late
To rest within the arms of Fate.

By fin and feather, leaf and bark,
As sun now banks to sheltered spark;
This year of trial and joy is past
Within the Circle we have cast.

And as the light around us fades
In golden shadows through the glade,
Like distant echoes down the hall,
We answer Samhain's ancient call ...

the town's sewer work, the total was nearly $300,000 above the town's appropriation and the engineer's estimate.

Onusseit deemed the low bid unreasonable and explained that the bidder had "front loaded" the overall bid with a much higher price tag than had been originally expected for the road's sewer work. Onusseit also added that separately putting the projects out for rebid should not significantly delay the two with the stoppage of the construction season approaching in the coming weeks. As it stands now, both projects are scheduled to be rebid by the middle of next month and opening in early December.

In addition to the news of the rebid, Onusseit provided selectmen with a new design change recently approved by the Water and Sewer Commission in an attempt to scale down the overall sewer project. The redesign would eliminate the cost of jacking at the Bridge Lane MBTA/Amtrak railroad crossing and reduce the depth of the sewer, with the latter cutting back on the length and extent of disruption the construction is expected to bring to Route 38 traffic.

"We will save approximately $140,000 with this approach," said Onusseit. "We will also avoid a very expensive track crossing with this approach."

Also, the board met briefly with William McLaughlin of Avalon Properties to discuss the long-delayed Salem Street sewer project that has inconvenienced the town's abutting residents and commuters over the last several months. According to McLaughlin, substantial progress has been made since the last meeting with selectmen two weeks ago when Project Manager Paul Soughley expressed difficulty in securing a second Amtrak flagman needed for the railroad crossing jackings. In that time, another flagman has been retained for the site and the road is expected to be paved and opened shortly.

"There's no reason in our understanding why the road couldn't be opened to general traffic on Thursday or Friday," said McLaughlin.

WILMINGTON - At the recent commissioner's meeting, the guest speaker was Attorney Donna McCormick of Cambridge and Somerville Legal Services. She spoke on the Senior Citizens' Law Project, a project funded, in part, by Somerville Cambridge Elder Services and Minuteman Home Care with grants authorized by Title III of the Older Americans Act. This project provides legal assistance to eligible seniors at no charge.

If you are age 60 or older and a resident of Wilmington, you may be eligible for free legal services. The types of services available include Elder Abuse; Social Security and SSI benefits; Public Benefits (i.e. food stamps, Medicaid); Evictions from public, subsidized, or private housing and other issues related to the legal rights of tenants, including eligibility for public and subsidized housing; cases involving loss of independence or exploitation of elders, including contested guardianship issues and alternatives to guardianship; and lastly, mental health rights of people with psychiatric disabilities. In other areas of law, advice and referrals are given.

The office is located at 432 Columbia Street, Suite 16 Cambridge, MA, 02141. You can reach their intake line daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at (617) 494-1800. They will also make home, hospital, and nursing home visits when necessary.

I would also like to share about a Senior Dinner Program at Lahey Clinic in Burlington. Every Tuesday evening there is a senior meal from 5:30 to 6:45 for $3.95. And once a month they have a "Senior Issue" seminar. The next seminar will be November 17 from 4 to 6 p.m. entitled "Stress Free for the Holidays." This sounds like a wonderful opportunity for all.

I want to take this opportunity to thank everyone who volunteered their time the past two weekends at Market Basket, selling chance tickets for our Holiday Fair on December 5. Everyone's support is greatly appreciated.

We still have tickets available to our Thanksgiving Social of November 5. This event is sponsored by the Tewksbury/Wilmington Elks, so tickets are free. The event will be held from 6 to 11 p.m. with dinner served at 7.

Lastly, on Wednesday, November 4,- Friday, November 6, our large function room will be closed due to the floor refinishing project. Our exercise class will be canceled for the 4th and 6th, the dance class canceled for the 5th and bingo canceled for the 6th. Sorry for this inconvenience.

grass are supposed to be, weeds and patches of unkempt grass line the roads. This continuing problem has left Shawsheen Commons residents upset and looking for answers.

"It really looks bad to guests," said Henry Cruz, 6501 Pouliot St. "Although the house looks nice, the road and sidewalk make it look cruddy."

Cruz, who has lived on Pouliot Street for two years, has no plans to move but is concerned that the unfinished curb and road could affect property values in Shawsheen Commons. If residents want to sell their houses, they have to be honest and tell potential buyers that the work may go unfinished for some time, Cruz said.

Sharon Lawson, 4901 Pouliot St., is also upset that the work has not been finished. She said that, in addition to detracting from the beauty of their neighborhood, the unfinished work also poses safety hazards to residents.

"People fall, and kids wipe out on their bikes, where the grade changes between the finished driveway and the unfinished road," Lawson said. "There are lots of walkers, and people taking their dogs for walks, in this development."

The unfinished sidewalk also poses problems for Shawsheen Commons residents during winter months, because the grade change also makes shoveling the snow from driveways more difficult. Also, because there are no curbstones, snowplows often tear up residents lawns, Lawson said.

Timothy J. Troiano supervisor in physical therapy

WILMINGTON - Wilmington's Timothy J. Troiano has joined Spaulding Rehabilitation Hospital in Boston as a clinical supervisor in physical therapy on the hospital's cardiopulmonary unit. Troiano is a graduate of Northeastern University with a bachelor of science degree in physical therapy.

Prior to joining Spaulding he served as a senior physical therapist at Mass. General Hospital where he specialized in outpatient cardiopulmonary and orthopedic care.

Spaulding is the only rehabilitation hospital in New England named for four consecutive years to U.S. News & World Report's annual list of America's Best Hospital.

Noone enjoying life in Andover

By Jamie Pote
Sports Editor

Over the years Wilmington has lost a lot of good athletic coaches. The list could go on and on. The most recent coach to trade in their blue and white jerseys is Maureen Noone, who the town barely knew.

In her three year short term, she put the field hockey program back on the map, as it was so much so during the Jan Cassidy Wood days. Wilmington captured two Cape Ann League titles in Noone's tenure, including state tournament appearances in all three seasons.

Tuesday afternoon, Noone and her assistant coach Mary Ann Gillis, who was also by her side in Wilmington, wrapped up what has been called by several as the second best Andover High field hockey season to date.

After 14 years at the helm, former head coach Sandy Lunt finally reached the state tournament for the first time last season with a senior oriented team. The team lost in the first round and Lunt resigned. Noone took over the program, and besides it being a complete rebuilding process, the team ended its terrific season with a 1-1 tie against a Tewksbury team who has lost just twice this season.

Noone finished her first season with Andover at 5-9-4 overall, not bad for a very young team and not bad for a program who was always at the bottom of the MVC barrel before the 1997 season. Her team missed the tournament for the first time as a head coach, but Tuesday was the second time this season they tied a very good Tewksbury team, who should be one of the top seeds in Division II.

A good example of Noone's sideline tactics is her goalie Mimi Ying, who was the third stringer for the last year's junior varsity team. Ying told Noone that she hadn't planned

Wilmington High senior co-captain Lisa Dellascio has done plenty of this over the years: that is, show off her fancy footowrk move like she did against Tewksbury's Kerry Ford in a game from last year. Lisa, a center half-back, has had a tremendous career for the Wildcats girl's soccer program.

Despite valiant effort

Volleyball team eliminated

By Jamie Pote
Sports Editor

After arguably its best season ever last year, the Wilmington High volleyball team were eliminated from state tournament play on Monday with its 2-0 loss to Melrose. The team had to win all three games this week to get back to the tourney.

Prior to the season, head coach Mike Nee hoped his team could get back there, but knew it would take some time for the players to gel with one another. However, he couldn't be disappointed in the least with the efforts he received all season.

"I felt that we had the skills and the ability to get back to the tourney," he said after the team's two-set loss to Melrose, both the scores of 15-9. "It was our goal. That

Keeping the family tradition

Lisa Dellascio has finesse, smarts and the right moves

By Jamie Pote
Sports Editor

Eleven years ago, the Wilmington High girl's soccer program formed behind then head coach Steve Mader. The following year, Sue Hendee took over and she coached the team to its first state tournament appearance behind players like Danielle Fay, Debbie Dellascio and Karen Lynch.

Now a decade later, Hendee still resides as the head coach and behind a strong week, it looks as if the team will probably get into the state tournament for the third season in a row and sixth time in the past seven years. In 1992, the girl's team went to the Eastern Mass. finals behind Adrienne Fay, the team's center halfback, who is the younger sister of Danielle.

Over the past three years, most of the success of the program getting into the state tournament has been thanks to the efforts of their center halfback: Lisa Dellascio, the younger sister of Debbie, a Lowell Sun All-Star in her senior season as a forward.

And not since those graceful and exciting soccer games played by Adrienne Fay, has Wilmington seen such a quintessential soccer player as they do in Lisa Dellascio.

"Lisa is an unbelievable passer," Hendee said. "Her passes are perfect, the perfect speed and they all go right on the foot of who she is passing the ball to. She has had a phenomenal season, her best ever. She sees the field really well and she works so hard."

Although Adrienne Fay was bigger and stronger, Dellascio certainly reminds one of having Fay's finesse, smarts and fantastic moves. Fay went onto play collegiate soccer at Merrimack for a season. Thus far, Salem State and UMass-Lowell have really shown a lot of interest in Lisa.

Saturday was one of many games that proved that Lisa brings the entire package to the soccer field.

Chase Wells, TMHS Golf

Wells, just a sophomore, shot a 5-over par, a 75 score, to win Monday's individual championship at the MIAA Division II North Sectional Golf Championship played at the Beverly Golf and Tennis Club. Over 18 holes, Wells' had 13 pars, 5 bogeys and became the first Tewksbury golfer ever to win a sectional individual title. His victory qualified him for Monday's state individual championship at Franklin CC.

Jen Johnson, WHS Volleyball

Johnson had an incredible two-set game against Melrose on Monday, despite the 'Cats losing both of them. Johnson, finished the two sets combing for 6 blocks and 6 kills.

Lock Monsters debut strong

The Lowell Lock Monsters debuted recently and they have nominated 25-year-old goaltender Marcel Cousineau for the AHL Sher-Wood Player of the Week award for the period ending Sunday, Oct. 25th.

Cousineauu, Boston Bruins third rund pick in the 1991 NHL Entry Draft, recorded three victories last week to help the expansion Lock Monsters to their first perfect week (3-0-0).

The goaltender posted the first ever Lock Monsters shutout on Wednesday with a 23-save, 3-0 win over Cincinnati. On Friday, Cousineau registered 18 saves in a 4-3 nailbiter versus Syracuse. His finest performance may have been on Saturday when he stopped 16-of-17 third period shots against Providence for a 4-3 win. He finished with 30 saves.

In the three games this week, Cousineau allowed just three even-strength goals. Lowell was outshot in every game this week (23-20, 21-13, 33-24) but managed to win all three contests.

To purchase tickets for the Lock Monsters call 508-458-7825.

Bowl chances seem very slim now for Shawsheen Football team

By JEFF NAZZARO
Sports Correspondent

For the better part of three quarters of football, the Shawsheen Tech Rams hung tough with the undefeated Greater Lawrence Reggies Saturday afternoon at Cassidy Field in Billerica. Then the wheels came off the wagon.

Greater Lawrence scored 20 unanswered points in a four-and-a-half minute span of the fourth quarter to break open a game they led just 14-12 at halftime. The 34-12 final was not necessarily indicative of the overall play on the field, but it was certainly indicative of what can happen if you make mistakes against a good football team at key moments.

The entire second half was a highly emotional one for the Rams, who watched Michael Stubbs break his left shin on the kick-off to start the third quarter. After Stubbs was driven off the field in an ambulance, a fired up Shawsheen squad started hitting people in earnest and actually seized control of the game.

"The kids were charged up after the injury," Costabile said. "They were charged up and playing emotional. The kids played hard. They played their hearts out."

What they did was finally start winning the war in the trenches against a bigger, stronger Reggie line. Greater Lawrence began the third quarter at their own 44-yard line and got as far as the Shawsheen 24 before turning it over on downs.

On third-and-three from the 25-yard line, Tewksbury's Christopher McCarthy, who played an outstanding defensive game, snuffed out Reggie running back Bo Morales for a 1-yard loss, and on fourth-and-four, Anthony Verrocchio pushed quarterback Paul Laviolette out of bounds 2 yards shy of the first down.

Shawsheen took over and took it right to the Reggies, using a balanced running attack to push the ball as far as the enemy 22-yard line. Big Jim Goglia of Tewksbury picked up three of the four Tech first downs on the drive, converting with 10 yards on third-and-three from the Ram 31, 7 on second-and-three from the Ram 48, and 3 more on second-and-two from the Reggie 37. From the 34, quarterback Matt Osterberg ran a bootleg 12 yards to the 22, but that was as far as they'd get.

On the next play, Wilmington's Anthony Marifiote found himself trapped in the backfield and thrown for a 5-yard loss and two plays later Osterberg was sacked for a loss of 11. That put the Rams back at the Greater Lawrence 37 facing a fourth-and-twenty-six. They tried a punt, and the Reggies blocked it.

Greater Lawrence started back from the Ram 49 and speedy Morales burst up the middle for a 14-yard pop on first down. Thus began a drive that would end at the Shawsheen 3-yard line yet still end up producing six big points.

The Reggie game plan consisted of two key ingredients: Morales up the middle (or off either tackle) and Laviolette faking to Morales up the middle and bootlegging, mostly to the right. On this drive the key plays were two Morales runs and an 18-yard Laviolette bootleg to the Tech 4-yard line.

From the 4, Morales tried it up the middle but Brian LeBlanc of Wilmington tripped him up for no gain. On second-and-goal Morales got a yard up the gut and then everyone and Jim Goglia smelled the bootleg coming. It did and Goglia dropped Laviolette for a 4-yard loss. Then on fourth-and-goal the call went to J.P. Vasquez, who made it to the 3-yard line after being tripped up by Osterberg. Wilmington's Jason Tildsley was in on the stop for Shawsheen as well.

It was an inspired defensive stand for the Rams and they were appropriately pumped. The blocked punt was one thing, but they had overcome it. They just had to get the ball out of their territory and there would be lot more football to play. Instead, disaster struck.

Shawsheen ran into a big problem in this game early when senior tri-captain and starting center Arthur Chase went out with a shin injury. That left a very large experience gap in the middle of the Rams' offensive line, and Greater Lawrence exploited it all afternoon. The punt block came up the middle and Osterberg, who threw the ball well when he had time, was harassed through the A-gap all day long.

From his 3-yard line Osterberg took the snap and dropped back to handoff to Goglia, but never got the chance. Two Reggie linemen penetrated through the middle, one of them slapped the ball away and Alex Marquez fell on it in the end zone. Before the buzz from the defensive stand had settled, Greater Lawrence had six points. The stunned Rams never recovered.

"That was a killer," Rams coach Al Costabile said of the fumble the Reggies caused and fell on in the end zone to take a 20-12 lead. "We had stopped them. The emotions were up for the team. We dig it out of there, we move the ball, we've got a lot of time left."

Laviolette kicked the point to make it 21-12 Reggies, but the two-score differential would hardly matter. Shawsheen couldn't handle the ensuing kick-off, Greater Lawrence recovered and Morales did the rest. He burst through a canyon-sized hole up the middle and then started making people miss in the open field, finishing in the end zone 33 yards later.

But wait, there's more. Shawsheen fumbled the kick-off after that touchdown and Morales had more chances to run the football. His final run of the day was an 11-yard touchdown jaunt complete with two spins. Morales finished the day with 181 yards and three touchdowns on 22 carries.

Greater Lawrence opened the game's scoring on their first possession after Shawsheen went three-and-out to open the game. The Reggies drove 44 yards in seven plays capped by Laviolette's 17-yard bootleg run. They went for two and failed and led 6-0.

Shawsheen came right back, spurred by a 24-yard kick return from senior quad-captain Tim Zanelli. Seven plays later, James Dickerson just got his fingertips on a 31-yard bomb from Osterberg and hauled it in for six to tie it with 2:33 to play in the opening quarter. Their two-point try also came up short.

It didn't take long for the Reggies to answer, as Felix Gonzales found a seam on the kick-off and didn't stop until Marifiote caught him from behind at the Shawsheen 11 after a 55-yard return. It took Morales two runs, the first stopped by Goglia for a yard loss, to make it 12-6. A pass from Laviolette to Luciano Vasquez gave the Reggies 14 points.

The teams traded possession throughout the second quarter, with Goglia spearheading a tough Shawsheen defense. McCarthy intercepted Laviolette with 2:33 to go in the half and the Rams managed a first down into Greater Lawrence territory, but a holding penalty pushed them back and they ended up punting from their own 43-yard line.

Greater Lawrence took over at their 23, gained 1 yard on first down and then went to the air on second down. Dickerson picked off the pass at the Reggie 30. A play later the Rams turned the turnover into six points as Chris Kerr hauled in Osterberg's 30-yard sling. The two-point pass try fell incomplete as Tildsley got his hands on an underthrown ball but trapped it against the ground.

With the loss Shawsheen falls to 3-3. They travel to Lynn Tech Friday evening.

A few steps to lose body fat

By MICHAEL BENTO

Losing body fat is a problem that has confounded millions of people. It seems info-mercials and print ads for weight loss pills, diets and exercise equipment are everywhere. Along with all of these products are a bevy of "fitness experts" who display their buffed bodies along with big smiles and claim that their system or machine is the best. Some even have the nerve to state that yes, even you can get the tremendous results you so desperately want simply by using their exercise machines just minutes a day. Well, it just doesn't work that way.

There is no quick fix, magic pill, or miracle machine that can take the place of good nutrition and regular exercise. Taking off body fat permanently is tricky. It involves a personal commitment to creating healthy habits. The challenge is maintaining the commitment. But, I can offer some tips that may make things a little easier:

•Try to eat five or six small meals (or snacks) every day. Eating this way is key to keeping blood sugar from spiking or dipping. Frequent food intake prevents the hunger attacks often responsible for binge eating. It also helps reduce the enzymatic activity responsible for fat storage.

•Include some exercise on most days of the week. Aerobic exercises could be walking, biking, or cross country skiing for 20-30 minutes. Also definitely include some strength training. Strength training is the only way to significantly increase lean muscle, and lean muscle is your best friend when trying to get rid of body fat. Muscle is what burns calories and fat, stimulating metabolism. It isn't necessary to be muscle bound; a little goes a long way. You can bet that all of those sculpted bodies in the ads have been subjected to a good deal of weight training over the years. If you are unfamiliar with strength training, or exercise in general, read up on it, or consult a certified personal trainer to ensure a safe and effective program.

If all of this sounds daunting, don't get discouraged. Take control! Making changes to look and feel better takes time. Many of the unhealthy habits we all have were built up over the course of our entire lives. Quick fixes and crash diets never work in the long term. Look at making changes as a commitment to yourself for the rest of your life. When you start to see improvements, you'll see it's the only way to go.

Girl's soccer team rebounds with several big wins

By Jamie Pote
Sports Editor

After struggling with consistency throughout this season, the Wilmington High girl's soccer team rebounded this past week with very strong team effort play in several exciting games.

After losing to Pentucket on Thursday, 2-1, Wilmington tied a very good MVC team in Methuen, 1-1, on Saturday morning before blowing out Manchester on Monday. After watching her troops complete a 180 degree circle over the past week, head coach Sue Hendee was very pleased with what she witnessed.

"They played to their potential today and I'm very pleased," she said after the Methuen tie. "That's all you can ask for. Just don't go out there to play to lose. I thought we outplayed them, we had a lot of chances in the game to score, but we couldn't pull it off.

"Becky [Rufo] had her best game in net, she was very strong coming off the line and this game should give her a lot of confidence. This game today gives us a big boost."

Rufo, who has replaced the injured Meredith Cipriani as the team's keeper, played superb on Saturday making seven difficult saves.

With the score tied at one with about 5 minutes or so left to go in the game, Rufo's stomach wasn't feeling up to par. Wilmington was called for a hand ball a few feet in front of Rufo on a scramble in front of the net, therefore, Methuen received a penalty shot. Luckily, the shot was headed right where Rufo had thought it would go, top right corner. It did, but it nailed the crossbar.

"Yeah, I was nervous," Rufo said about the many butterflies she felt in her stomach. "I was ready though. I thought she was going to go to the right, and she did. Thankfully it hit the crossbar."

Prior to that, Rufo made one of the better saves on a rocket launched to her left about 10 yards out. Coming from the left corner, Rufo came out to challenge the Methuen player who was untested. The ball came in about head high, Rufo went down to her knees and blocked the shot with her hands, saving what could have been the game winner. She did that several times in the game.

"That was just reaction," she said about that one save.

Wilmington started off with a bang, scoring about seven minutes into the game. Senior co-captain Lisa Dellascio took a corner kick. As usual, Dellascio's boot was put right on the head of a teammate. This one went to Lindsay Bruno, who headed the ball to her right. The ball landed and junior Kristen Kacamburas belted a right-foot shot to the top left corner, for the 'Cats lone goal of the game.

"We played a lot better today," said Dellascio. "We came together as a team. We weren't with it last week and today was a big test and we came through."

Immediately after that, Methuen's strong passing game had them inside the 'Cats territory. Going left-to-right, at the top of the right 18' mark, Methuen tied the game. Coming from a direct kick, Rufo made the initial save, leaping with the ball rolling off her finger tips, but an uncovered Methuen player knocked in the loose ball at the side of the net.

Some excitement was added to the game moments later, when the Methuen coach was given a yellow card, protesting an illegal hands call on her netminder who grabbed a loose ball that came off a teammate's foot. Wilmington squandered the big chance, as Dellascio got too much of a direct kick, sending the ball through the uprights of the football goal posts.

Dellascio got her redemption though. With time running out in the first half, she dribbled through several defenders going deeper into Ranger territory. About 30 yards out, Dellascio unleashed a bullet, perfectly placed about knee high to the far side of the net. The keeper going to her left, was able to get some of her fingers on it, diving and making an incredible save while being completely outstretched.

"I thought it was going in," Dellascio admitted. "The [Methuen] goalie played really well."

In the second half, Wilmington executed a perfect overlapping drill. Bruno had the ball with her back turned to the Methuen net. She turned to her right, dishing a beautiful pass to Arlene Muscufo, coming down the sideline. Muscufo moved in, and got off a solid shot, that sailed to the far side of the net but was caught in mid-air.

Diane Dellascio, like Muscufo, played one of her better games, and she had several golden chances too in the second half. Despite being able to use her fancy footwork and dribble around some players, the freshman also made a gorgeous pass from the left end, to the front of the net, but no one was there to collect the freebie.

Wilmington's final chance came when Kristen Pelletier was alone in front of the net, and her high shot was saved.

Wilmington carried the momentum to Monday when they beat Manchester, 3-0. Bruno, Diane Dellascio and Pelletier notched the goals for the 'Cats who need just three more points in three games to clinch its sixth state tournament berth in the past seven years.

Dellascio has the finesse

Besides her obvious strengths -- incredible footwork, near perfect passing and tremendous heads up play – the little things she does makes up a lot of differences in a typical game. Whether it is using her body and shielding off opponents as perfect as one could, or if its leading by example on the field just by her quiet, yet unassuming presence, Lisa Dellascio has been an extensive reason of the winning tradition that has been carried on from the days that her older sister Debbie helped get going.

Lisa also has a younger sister, Diane, who is a freshman on this year's team. With the same fluidity in her game, Diane seems destin to keep the Dellascio name going. "It's cool playing with her, but she is a lot faster [than me]," Lisa said.

Hendee, though, wishes more Dellascio's were on their way. "Diane is the last Dellascio I will enjoy coaching," she regretted saying before the season started.

Earlier this season, Lisa's teammate Lindsay Bruno broke the all-time scoring record at WHS with 26. She has added many more to that total and as hard as Bruno works for everything she gets, a big reason for her success besides her own talents, is the play of Dellascio.

Already this season, the pair have hooked up seven times on goals, while starting numerous plays that allowed other teammates to score. Lisa, now with 6 goals and 9 assists in just 15 games, says its because they are so used to one another.

"We have been playing together for eight years. We know exactly where eachother is going to be at all times," Lisa said.

Several minutes into Saturday's 1-1 tie against Methuen, Lisa proved that theory of knowing where her long-time friend would be. Taking a corner kick as she always does, Lisa sent a long beautiful kick to the front of the net. Bruno, certainly not one of the tallest soccer players, stood in one spot, leaped and timed the header perfectly. The ball went off her noggin, falling to the foot of teammate Kristen Kacamburas to Bruno's right. Kacamburas finished it off, nailing it home free.

As easy as that.

Much later in the game, Wilmington surmounted a lot of pressure on Methuen. Lisa had the ball coming into Ranger territory. Two different players came on her strong, only to have Lisa go around them with ease, putting the ball inbetween their feet, behind her, infront of her, to both sides - showing off every kind of footwork move one possibly could.

As Lisa continued to move in, she picked up her head to see she had plenty of room to blast one. A few minutes before, she had the same opportunity and elected to pass, squandering a golden opportunity to unleash a tie. This time, she uncorked a beauty, a low line drive to the far side, 30 yards out. Her ball looked like a baseball coming from a pitching machine, hard, fast and straight and it was headed to Netland, only to be redirected by the finger tips of the Methuen goalie.

The crowd groaned with disappointment, as did Lisa. She bent over to the ground, picked up some grass and flung it, sporting a smile the entire way. She knew she was robbed.

"I wasn't sure where I was. When I looked up, I just saw an opening so tried to nail it as hard as I could. I thought it was going in...that goalie was very good," she said.

on playing this season, figuring she wouldn't make varsity. Ying looked like she played the position all of her life on Tuesday, as Tewksbury had more than a handful of chances to put the game away. That song, of Noone all of a sudden finding a goalie, was first recorded in Wilmington, when current 'Cat star Patrice Mendoza went from a suspect JV goalie, to nothing short of a superb goalie by working incredibly hard and from the tutelage of Noone.

"It's been a lot of fun," she said. "I don't regret the move at all. I do miss a lot of the [Wilmington] kids. It was strange coming in not knowing anyone, but in a lot of ways I think that helped us. Here everyone supports you even the parents whose kids don't play that much support you. There are so many nice people. I made the right decision."

Noone left Wilmington for several reasons, mainly frustration from many areas over the few years Now she seems happy as ever, still coaching with another Wilmington loss in MaryAnn Gillis and under the direction of Jim Hurley, the athletic director who has prowled off a handful of former Wilmington coaches.

It's obvious Noone's departure has taken its toll. Just like the departures of coaches (recent ones) Bill Cullen, Sue Rowe, Wood and Frank Kelly to name a few, nevermind the long loss of former teacher/trainer Jim Krupa.

Noone's name will now be brought up with those and many others, of very good people Wilmington once had who went totally unnoticed and who were totally under appreciated for what they did for student-athletes, not to mention what they did on the sidelines.

Soccer team running hard to another state tournament run

By Jamie Pote
Sports Editor

Longtime Tewksbury High boy's soccer coach Steve Levine said it best: 'the Wilmington soccer team always is a tough team. They will run through a wall for Dick Scanlon. All they do is run'.

Levine will see that display this Saturday when the rivalry continues with a non-league game, however, Levine's statement is true. The team has always been one that runs, runs and runs more, hoping to get a break and take advantage of it. Last year that was evident when the team went to the state finals, this past week it seemed as if their reputation exceeds them.

After struggling, in their terms, prior to this past week's two games, Wilmington played two solid road games coming away with two wins, putting them at 9-4-2 overall. They clinched a state tournament berth for the seventh time in the past eight years. Now with three games left on the schedule, three more wins could give them a much better seed as they look to go as deep as they can in the tournament.

"I was really pleased with Monday's win," he said. " I played a lot of kids because we have four games this week and I didn't want them exhausted. Manchester's field is very small and difficult to play on, so under the conditions I was very pleased [with the 5-0 win]."

Of the five goals, four of them were scored by players who didn't see a minute of play in last year's tourney run. Several of the younger players are turning it up, as have a few of the veterans.

Monday had seniors Kevin Riley and Dan Sweet with underclassmen Joe Kane, Eric Swiezynski and Kevin Forgett netting the goals. Forgett has seven goals this season and has really turned it on lately.

Another player who has turned it on is senior Matt Kacamburas, known as "Mousey." This kid epitomizes Levine's statement. He might not have all of the skills and talents, but he does so much by hustling and playing heads up play.

As for the other win, Wilmington beat a very good Pentucket team, 3-2, to qualify them for the state tournament. Justin Vallas, Sean Cahill and Forgett tallied the scores.

Volleyball team eliminated

doesn't mean that this team isn't talented, we had a very good season. Just sometimes it doesn't go your way and some balls didn't fall our way."

Wilmington continued its never say die attitude with a gritty performance on Monday at the WHS gymnasium. Jen Johnson had a monster game, with 6 blocks, 6 kills and a tip block that gave the 'Cats a point.

"I told Jen that I couldn't possibly have asked her to do more than what she did, how could I? She had a monster game, I couldn't possibly have asked for anything more."

Nee directed Melrose's success to the return of their middle hitter, who he said made it hard to cut down on the long hits from her. Nee hoped he could do that but pinching his two outside hitters in, but the overall play of Melrose was too much to handle. In either case, Wilmington played extremely well.

"We communicated well on the floor, we were strong at the net and we kept banging. We played with a lot of emotion and the kids kept up its Hallmark tradition of never quitting. I'm very proud of them."

Also playing well were Jackie Eldridge, Leah Staffier and Danielle Bailot who combined with Johnson for 15 kills.

CREDIT CARD MANIA
Most people know that a checkered credit card history can disqualify you for a home loan, and maxed-out credit cards can do the same thing. But what most people don't know is that merely having a large number of credit cards, even with low balances and a history of timely payments, can disqualify you for a home mortgage loan just as quickly.
According to credit experts, having a number of credit cards can be just as detrimental to the granting of further credit as a history of late payments. Lenders look at it this way: If you have 10 credit cards, each with a limit of $5,000, that means you have the potential to run up $50,000 in debt virtually any time you choose. That mere possibility makes you a greater risk, from their point of view.
The moral of the story? If you are planning to apply for a home loan in the future, keep only those credit cards you actually need to use and cancel the others.

Field Hockey team needs big week to keep bumpy season going

The Wilmington High girl's field hockey team needs three more points in their last two games to make it to the state tournament for the seventh time this decade. The Wilmington High Field Hockey team absorbed a heartbreaking loss to Manchester Monday, putting their backs against the wall in their bid to qualify for the state tournament. After the 4-2 defeat, Wilmington needs to come up with a win and a tie in their final two games to advance into the tourney for the seventh time this decade.

Wilmington came out strong in Monday's game, placing some early pressure on Manchester goalkeeper Mary Holland. The 'Cats tallied quickly, as Lauren Holloway finished a beautiful 70-yard solo rush with a shot that beat Holland to her right at 5:01. The goal was Holloway's fifth of the season.

Wilmington continued to control the game for most of the first half, adding another goal when Rebecca Toto's blast from 40-feet caromed off of a Manchester player and into the net for her second goal of the season.

The 2-0 score held up until the end of the first half, as Wilmington continued to look strong.

The second half, however, could not have gone much worse for the 'Cats, as Manchester got a quick goal from Brianna Hobbs at 4:24 to close the gap to one.

The one goal lead proved to be short-lived, however, as Hobbs tallied again at 7:01 to knot the game at two.

Wilmington coach Patti Cushing called a time-out in an attempt to regroup and break Manchester's momentum, but the Hornets continued their assault on Wildcat netminder Patrice Mendoza (eight second half shots, ten for the game), getting the go-ahead goal from Sara Anderson at 13:53.

Manchester's Holly Arcond would add another goal at 16:12 to close out the scoring.

Wilmington's second half collapse was not lost on Cushing.

"We let down at the half," said Cushing. "I told them to be careful, that Manchester would come out tough in the second half and they did.

"As far as the tournament goes, it's up to them what they want to do. I hope they pull themselves together, because the talent is there," Cushing said.

Wilmington got an outstanding game from midfielder Colleen Campbell, as well as fine performances from forwards Rebecca Toto and Lauren Holloway.

The loss was especially disappointing with the team unable to maintain the momentum of their encouraging 3-0 win at Pentucket Regional on Friday.

The Wildcats played a stellar first half in that game, holding the Sachems without a shot for the entire half, despite giving up eight corners.

Red-hot forward Kara Langone got Wilmington on the board first, scoring her fifth goal of the season at 6:20 on a feed from Kate Sughrue.

Wilmington thoroughly dominated the second half as well, taking a two goal lead when Lauren Holloway tallied at 9:45 on an assist from Maura Lynch. Just seconds earlier, Kara Langone had narrowly missed her second goal of the game, when her shot rang off the post.

Jen DeSimone closed out the scoring for Wilmington, notching her first goal of the season at 24:18. DeSimone's goal was set up by Kara Langone, who made a great pass after stripping a Pentucket player of the ball.

Langone played an absolutely phenomenal game and seemed to be everywhere on the field.

"Kara has a lot of skill, and she doesn't get intimidated," said Cushing.

Wilmington also got terrific efforts from Lynch, Rebecca Toto, Katie Chisholm, and Kristie Langone. Patrice Mendoza needed just two stops to post her fifth shutout of the season.

"We're totally excited," said Cushing after the game. "We wanted to roll in this game, we knew we could take them. I told the girls in the time-out to play our game, not their game. I think we did that."

The win at Pentucket came on the heels of a tough 2-1 loss at Hamilton/Wenham Wednesday, in a game marred by poor field conditions.

Players from both teams stumbled on the uneven terrain, as Wilmington controlled play for most of the first ten minutes.

Although Wilmington came out strong, Hamilton/Wenham scored first, when Alyssa Napoleon knocked home a pass from Holly Morin at 8:37 to put the Generals up 1-0.

The second half was pretty evenly contested until the Generals' Kate DiGennaro put Hamilton/Wenham up 2-0 with 12:49 left to play.

Wilmington attempted to fight back, closing the deficit to one goal when Kristie Langone blasted home her first goal of the season at 24:41 on a corner setup from Lauren Holloway.

The 'Cats applied a great deal of late pressure, coming extremely close to tieing the game before the final whistle.

Cushing eluded to the handful of scoring chances the 'Cats had saying, "We had some opportunities at the end to tie it, but we just couldn't get it to go in.

" I thought we played well, but we had some trouble with coverage in front of our net. We're starting to worry about the tournament."

The Lady Wildcats got quality play from Katie Chisholm and Rebecca Toto, among others.

The Wildcats' 1-2 week leaves their record at 5-6-5 entering their final two games. Wilmington was to play at home (Wednesday) against a tough Georgetown team, and will wrap up the regular season (Thursday) at home against non-league foe Tewksbury (6-2-9 in the MVC).

A win and a tie are needed to put Wilmington at the requisite number of points (18) to qualify the team for the state tournament.

Mike Carr certainly will be remembered

By Jess Martin
Sports Correspondent

When it's all over, Mike Carr will leave his mark on the Wilmington track. While his records may fade, people will always remember his smile, attitude, and above all his great sportsmanship.

Wilmington High senior Mike Carr in action during a spring track meet.

Until he tosses his cap on Graduation Day in May, his cross country and track uniforms will be seen dripping with sweat and his face covered in dust. He's usually not the first to cross the finish line in any meet, but everyone is cheering for him.

As difficult as it is to come across an elite runner such as Carr's teammate Jay Gillis, it's even more difficult to come across such an all-around student-athlete as Carr.

"Michael is everything you'd want in a runner. He's very dedicated and above all a hard worker" says Bob Cripps, who has been Mike's winter and spring track coach for the past four years.

Carr began running cross-country as a freshman to get into shape for basketball season. As winter rolled around, he found himself not on the basketball court but on the track.

And on the track he would stay for the duration of his high school career. Four years of cross-country. Four years of winter track. And three years of spring track.

"I think what I like best about running is that I can think," said Carr. "I think while I run, it helps me focus. What motivates me to keep running is sometimes I look behind me and I see my [competition] looking like they are about to die and I think 'I want to do this, if I going to start this, I'm going to finish it' that's just how I am."

Carr, who also runs cross-country for Tom Bradley, commented on both of his coache's styles.

"Bradley's very laid back, but he gets the job done. He makes you work hard. Cripps on the other hand believes in the don't-stop-til-you-get it method" Mike said with a smile.

"I've killed myself for Cripps, I remember once when I was vying for a spot on the 4x4 relay team and he said to me, 'if you want...go get it' and I did. That's how bad I wanted it".

Cripps is quick to point out Carr's character as well as his running talent. "If I had a dozen guys like [Mike], I'd have a great team. He's willing to run and do anything you ask him too".

Carr is quick to comment on that "I do what I can, I go where I'm needed. During my sophomore year I was a utility man. I ran whatever was needed".

Carr's other coach, head of cross-country Tom Bradley, reiterates what Cripps said.

"Mike's a great guy. He keeps the morale up on the team. Along with Gillis and Crescenzo, he helps to keep things going,."

In the cross-country season, Mike has no choice but to run the 3 mile. During the winter season he does the high jump, 4x4 relay, sprints or hurdles, dependent upon where he is needed. In the spring he continues with the high jump along with the triple jump, 4x4 relay or the hurdles.

When asked what his favorite thing to do as, Mike quickly replied "the jumping events" with a big smile. (Mike's success in the jumping events probably comes in part from the sheer size of his legs.)

Carr has left an imprint on the team. When his name is mentioned to fellow team members they can't help but smile. As co-captain Jason Crescenzo puts it "Mike is the driving force behind this team. He combines team spirit, hardwork, and dedication". And with a sly smile creeping across his face he adds "Mike's a monster".

Carr had much to say about his team, "bunch of wild bohemians. No, just kidding. I love the team. We as a whole, have always got along together. We define what a team is. I've made new friends, kept old ones going. We all band together.

Carr has a long list of accomplishments including winning the Coaches award at last years WHS Athletic Awards Banquet. The previous year he won the MVP in spring track. He also can add the elusive triple win to his list. Last winner, he placed first in the triple jump, 50-yard dash, and the 4x4 relay team.

His most memorable moment however was his own personal best of 57 seconds in the 4x4 relay. "I was running with [Chris] Kilburn, [Eric] Veator, and [Dan] Sweet, we won, it was the best I've ever run".

Now at the end of his final cross-country season, he begins to focus on the upcoming seasons. Cripps has confirmed that he will be a captain in either winter or spring, but he will not specify which one.

"I'm going to start training, lift some weights. Cross-country has left me in better shape. I mean if I wasn't running it I'd be a blob" chuckles Carr .

Carr's not just an athlete either. As Bradley points out "Mike's a thespian too". Besides being stellar in track, he is a phenomenal actor.

He's taken drama classes since the sixth grade. As a freshman he worked with (WHS English Teacher) Matt Joyce, as a junior, he was directing.

Carr is also a member of the elite North Regional Drama Workshop which gives performances at the high school. Last year he took the lead part of Danny Zucco in the musical Grease.

As if his schedule wasn't tight enough between track practice and drama, he is also the treasurer of the senior class, vice-president of SADD, vice-president of the robotics club, and a member of the newspaper, peer leadership, and bread roses.

Carr is not certain as to whether or not he will run track in college, but he is seriously considering the possibility. He is looking at NYU, Emerson, and Fordham University.

The cross-country team prepares for the Cape Ann League meet on Saturday. The Cats are pumped and ready to go after their successful meet with North Reading, with both the boys and the girls oming away with victories.

This victory marked the first win of the season for the lady Cats. Highlights of the meet included Laura Winn's win in the girls race and Jay Gillis' record breaking performance (his second in as many weeks).

Pop Warner teams give it their all against Red Devils

The Wilmington Mighty Mites "Blue" Pop Warner football team were defeated by Burlington 27-7. The Mighty Mites "Blue" were no match for what appeared to be for their second consecutive opponent a select Mighty Mite team.

After being dominated on both sides of the football for the first half and falling behind 21-0, the young Wildcats came out roaring in the second half and mounted an impressive 60 yard drive for their only score of the day.

Seven-year-old Anthony Nihan, starting his first game at quarterback, started things rolling with a five yard gain up the middle. Danny Malonson, Lou Cimaglia and Marc Grassia alternated pounding the ball off tackle behind the blocks of Brad Jackson, Joe Giorlando, and Dillon Halidy to bring the ball to midfield.

As the Burlington defense stiffened, putting Wilmington in a fourth and 12 situation, Danny Malonson, playing his first game at halfback, followed the blocks of Justin DeRosa and Kevin Carter and powered his way for a Wilmington first down. On the very next play Marc Grassia broke through the line, made a nifty cut to the outside and sped for a 30-yard touchdown run.

Danny Malonson followed with the extra point. Like the Patriots, the score did not indicate how strong a game the Wilmington defense played. John Baldwin, Jeffrey DeRose, Matthew Companeschi, James Hamm, Paul Fortin, Peter Maglio, Frank Sorrentino, Jason Pereira, Dillon Biase, Derek Steen and Dean Moran all contributed a strong effort on defense.

Robbie Gillis (above) and Joey Herra (below) both carry the ball for the Wilmington Pop Warner C teams. (Photos by Lauren Beninati).

A team

Wilmington vs Burlington

The Wilmington A team, sponsored by Mailing and More, went to Burlington and played the game of their lives.

Christian Devito scored twice on couple of his many spectacular offensive plays. Derek Bruce, Jared Nims, Nick Marosco and Brendon Callinan blocked very well offensively.

Sean Layton came up huge and played the game of his life on defense. Sean keyed the three quarter shutout along with Ryan Kindad, Derek Courtois, Steve Hunter, Stephen Crawford, David Paris, Mike Shurrman and Joey Downs played excellent defense. They all played with honor and pride.

Good luck to A and C cheerleaders in the upcoming competition. Remember, as long as you do your best you will place in Wilmington.

And, very special thanks to Tom Aprile for all the work and time he put into Wilmington Pop Warner.

B Team

Wilmington 8 Burlington 6

The Wilmington Pop Warner B team, sponsored by Brothers Pizza defeated Burlington 8 to 6 in last weekend's game.

Michael Gore scored a touchdown and Alfredo Badolato made a PAT (two points).

Outstanding offensive players included Mike Gore (QB), Mike Cotto (RB), Chris Winn (OL), Ryan Maguire (OL), Mike Jones (OL), Eric DeFavre (OL) and Alfredo Badolato (end).

Playing well on defense were Derek Hanley (LB), Tom Coates (big interception set up the winning touchdown), Jeff Morgan (DL), Bob Harrington (LB), Jordan Weiner (S) and Mike Miller (DL).

C team

Wilmington vs Burlington

Wilmington's C team, sponsored by the Final Sider, suffered a tough defeat at the hands of Burlington in the weekend game, but gave it all they and went down fighting. Joe Herra's 60-yard run and Robbie Gillis' 30 yards were extremely well executed, and a credit to their team, their coaches and everyone involved.

The entire team played hard all day on both offense and defense.

All the C team members wish their cheerleaders good luck in the upcoming competition.

E-White team vs Burlington

In a great offensive game, Wilmington's E-White team, sponsored by Brady Roofing was lead by the blocking of Scott Dacko, Andy Valente and Philip D'Arcangelo.

The E-White scored two touchdowns by Ernie Mello and an extra point by Nick Clark. Also having a great day on the offensive side of the ball were Victor Annunziata and Ryan McCarthy.

In a monster defensive game the E-White defense was led by the outstanding performance of Nick Clark at defensive end. He made several tackles in the backfield and scored on a fumble recovery. An interception was made by Scott Dacko to stop a Burlington scoring drive. Having a great on the defensive side against Burlington were Chris O'Brien and Mike Cabral at linebackers.

The team would like to thank the E-White cheerleaders for the great team spirit and support. Great job ladies!

Wilmington High senior Andy Falanga thought he had a touchdown on this catch, only for it to be called back due to a Wilmington holding penalty in the team's win over Hamilton-Wenham. (Photo by Joe Hakey).

Andy Falanga provides lone excitement in another snoozer football game

By Jamie Pote
Sports Editor

In a game that had as much excitement as a Pete Carroll press conference, there were two positives that came out of Saturday's Wilmington High football game: the first positive was a 33-6 win over a very young Hamilton-Wenham team and the second positive was the catch Andy Falanga made.

Falanga, a senior who doesn't grab the headlines every week, made arguably one of the better receptions to remember on Alumni Stadium. And that was better to see than another dominating win over a much weaker Cape Ann League opponent.

After having his first touchdown of the season called back due to a holding penalty – a 50-yard reception from Mike Gennetti –Falanga nearly found the end zone about 15 minutes later.

On first-and-ten at the HW 41, Falanga's route sent him deep down the right sidelines as the 'Cats were going right-to-left leading 20-0 with 1:30 left in the first half. Falanga was going toe-to-toe with his opponent, and Wilmington's quarterback Josh Hiltz stood patiently in the pocket and unloaded a sweet lofting pass towards their direction. Falanga, at about the 5-yard line of HW, went up for the ball over his right shoulder, totally outstretched and came down with the ball in his hands at the 1-yard line. He was able to time his leap, beating his opponent who was doing the same, while making a very tough catch going to his right.

"I don't know how I caught it," Falanga said gleaming after leading the way with the 'Cats fight song on the 50-yard line. "He was playing me kind of loose, and when I was running, I thought there was no way I would catch it because it was well over my head.

"I don't really remember anything but landing. When I came over to the bench, coach [Bob] Almeida congratulated me and said it was one of the better catches he has ever seen."

Besides that one play, this game lacked the drama as it was known before, during and after that Wilmington would whip the Generals. They did just that, scoring four touchdowns on their first five possessions. Mike Gennetti (10-yard run), Eric Banda (9-yard run), Bob French (4-yard run), Gennetti (1-yard run) and Mark Jepson (19-yard run) scored the touchdowns.

In seven games this season (5-2), quarterback Josh Hiltz seems to have the most impressive stats. He has completed 19-of-39 attempts, good for a 49 percent rate, while throwing three interceptions (not one that was said last week).

Other impressive stats include both Banda and Gennetti average a little over 5 yards per carry, while, Dave DeAmato is the team's top receiver at 6 catches for 120 yards.

Stats through 7 games:

Passing: Josh Hiltz 19-39 307 yds, 3 INT; Mike Gennetti 0-3.

Rushing: Eric Banda 59-311; Mike Gennetti 46-238; Josh Hiltz 44-138; Mark Jepson 18-114; Bob French 12-107; Matt Minghella 16-93; Dave DeAmato 10-63; Mike Bonnell 1-17; Dave Trueira 3-16; John Hurst 3-9; Ryan Moroney 3-9; Andy Falanga 3-6; Jeff Coughlin 2-4; Pat Heffernan 2-3; Marc Sollazzo 1-2; Doung Tran 1 (-2).

Receiving: Dave DeAmato 6-120; Andy Falanga 2-59; Sean Quigley 2-58; Jim O'Donnell 2-36; Mike Gennetti 2-29; Eric Banda 4-5

Notables:

- Last week, Dave DeAmato was given an extra reception for 23 yards, instead it should have been added to Sean Quigley. Sorry for the error.
- Of the 1,137 rushing yards Wilmington has thus far this season, 850 of those yards that were achieved are coming back next year.
- Thus far in 29 games as head coach, Bob Almeida holds an 20-8-1 record, a .69 winning percentage.
- Besides having lights added to the Alumni Field, isn't it also time to add the yard markers as well?

Under 10-C soccer

The Wilmington boys under 10-C team traveled to Billerica early Saturday morning to face a tough Billerica Team. Brendan O'Riordan played goalkeeper in the first half while Michael Johnson was the keeper in the second half. Wilmington's tough defensive plays lead by John Lippiello and Andrew Della Pelle kept Billerica from capitalizing on some of their earlier scoring chances. Billerica struck first with a goal about 5 minutes into the game.

Wilmington began to apply the pressure in the Billerica end with some strong offensive plays lead by forwards JJ Polcari and James Savage. Michael Johnson had a good scoring drive when he hit the upper cross bar with a blistering shot from the right side of the net. The pressure began to mount again when Billerica's forwards led an offensive attack with resulted in another goal for Billerica. For the rest of the first half there were some good scoring chances by both teams but the half ended with Wilmington down by two goals.

The Second half opened up with strong offensive play from forwards Steven Marsh and Nicholas Jannone. Wilmington had a great scoring chance when forward Brain Connelly connected on a pass to James Savage who broke into the clear and was all alone heading towards the net. Billerica's Keeper made an outstanding save on the play. Wilmington managed to get on the boards with a goal by Scott Benard.

Billerica keep up the offensive pressure in the second half by scoring two more goals to add to their lead. Wilmington had some great scoring chances with strong drives lead by forwards Brendan O'Riordan and JJ Polcari. The game ended with a 4-1 defect which was Wilmington's first loss of the year.

Later that afternoon Wilmington heading back to their home field to face the team from Hanscom. Wilmington started to apply pressure early in the game with two great scoring chances by forwards Michael Johnson and Scott Benard. Wilmington struck first with a great scoring drive started by James Savage who connected on a perfectly timed pass to forward John Lippiello who kicked the ball in the lower right hand corner of the net giving Wilmington a 1 to 0 lead. Hansom had some good scoring chances but Keeper Brendan O'Riordan with the help of defenders JJ Polcari and Andrew Della Pelle managed to keep Hanscom out of the Wilmington net for most of the first half. Just before the end of the first half the Wilmington defense let down their guard just enough for Hansom to tie the game with a score right before the whistle ending the first half.

The second half started with keeper Michael Johnson in net. Hanscom continued on their strong offensive play from the first half when then connected on their second goal given them a 2 to 1 lead over Wilmington. Wilmington came right back to tie the game with a impressive scoring drive by Brendan O'Riordan which was set-up by James Savage.

Forward Brian Connelly with the help of midfielder Nicholas Jannone had a real good scoring chance in the second half but the Hansom goalie managed to make the save. Forwards JJ Polcari and Steven Marsh kept applying pressure on the Hansom defense. Hanscom mounted a strong offensive drive in the Wilmington end which was finished off with a goal giving Hansom a one goal lead over Wilmington. The game ended with Hansom winning the game 3 to 2. Wilmington will travel to Medford tomorrow to have their 3rd game of the weekend.

Wilmington headed to Medford Sunday morning for the third and final game of the weekend. The game between Medford and Wilmington turned out to be a defensive battle by both teams.

Brenda O'Riordan started out as the Wilmington keeper for the first half. James Savage and Nicholas Jannone were strong on defensive turning back many of the Medford scoring chances. Wilmington mounted a strong offensive drive with Michael Johnson leading Scott Benard on a great pass into the open field to give Scott a clear shot on net. The Medford keeper managed to make the save. JJ Polcari and forward John Lippiello kept the play in the Medford end with some good scoring chances. Both sides traded scoring opportunities though most of the first half and when the whistle sounded for the end of the half, the games was even at zero to zero.

The second half started with Brian Connelly moving the ball down field and getting a good shot on the Medford goal in which the Medford keeper saved. Steven Marsh and Andrew Della Pelle were strong on defense with the help of some great saves by keeper Michael Johnson who was rock solid in net as he has been some many times in previous games. Late in the second half Medford mounted another strong scoring drive in which JJ Polcari managed to spoil with a blocking save just as Medford was getting ready to kick the ball at the net. Both teams battled aggressively for the remainder of the game which ended in a 0 to 0 tie which was a well played game by both sides. Next week Wilmington will host Reading for their final game of the Fall season.

Yugoslavia vs Russia

A great game between these two teams. Madeline Salha scored for Yugoslavia with Kerri Murphy and Lauren Hitchins helping out on the offense. Laura Silverio and Gabrielle Hauray held back the attack on the defense. Making some awesome saves in net were Tara Jabour and Madeline Salha.

For Russia Courtney Parson scored a net bender. As Victoria Tanzella and Michelle Phillips helped out with some great passing work on the offense, Kate Phaup and Kristina Moretti had a great game on defense. Playing net was Cara McGuire.

First Grade girls
San Jose Clash vs Dallas Burn

An offensive battle was waged between these two teams with both showing pin point passing. Working hard on offense for the Clash were Catlyn Hayes and Allison Bleier, both scoring, helped out on the effort by Stephanie Kelly. Holding down the defensive line was Stephanie Weymouth. net minder was Melissa Curran. Elizabeth Liberacki and Elizabeth Crannell both hustled for the team.

For the Burn, Alicia Day, Jillian Fudge, Rachel Saloman, Jillian Lacey and Nicole Luz all hit the net for a goal and teammate Amelia Woodbury combined for many good offensive plays. Holding down the defense with some great moves was Lisa Russell. Netminders were Stephanie Lepore and Amanda Barnes.

K.C. Wizards vs
Colorado Rapids

A quality soccer game between the Wizards and Rapids. For the Wizards, Alyssa Nihan and Shannon Maggio had some great passing skills on the offense. On the defense line was Jacqueline Zaremba and Julie Braid. Kelly Campbell and Amanda Lee Hollenbeck kept net.

For the Rapids Danielle Sugrue and Rachel Silsbee scored with great offensive plays handed in by Michelle Parece, Stefany Barcellos and Alexandra Copp. The defensive covered by Katie Kilday, Jacqui Lyman and Kayle Reynolds playing hard. Kristen Cabral played net.

D.C.United vs N.E. Revolution

The United and the Revs worked hard in a show of great passing and hustle. For D.C. Michelle Winchell and Jessica Burke scored for the team. Joanna Torres and Julie Gustafson were strong in support of offense. Defensive plays by Brittany Smith and Nicole Stygles broke up many of the Rev's plays. Playing net for the team were Bryanne Smith and Lauren Griffin.

For the Rev's, Allison Robbins had the goal for the team. Katherine Thanopoulos and Gabrielle Emerzian had numerous rushes on the offensive line. Marybeth McMahon broke up many plays on defense. Emily D'Amelio and Jerene Boudreau both played great in net.

Travel soccer teams enjoying winning ride

Under 9B Boys tie Lincoln

The Wilmington U-9 boys Byouth traveling soccer team tied Lincoln 1-1 in what was an exciting game from start to finish.

Both teams played well offensively and defensively, moving the ball up and down the field the entire game.

In the first half Lincoln scored to make the game 1-0. After that Wilmington defensemen, Nick Farns- worth and Keith Quigley, along with keeper, Mike Robarge, prevented Lincoln from any further scores. Andrew Goosens and Trevor Cormier both had several shots on goal, but were unable to get the ball past the keeper. Wilmington's goal came close to the end of the first half when Carlton Lentini stopped a goal kick, dribbled around the defense and scored.

In the second half Wilmington's offense came on strong. In spite of several scoring attempts by Brett Robbins and Matt Bibeau, Wilmington was unable to score. David Reed provided some key defensive plays, while keeper, Chris Lavin, managed to block all shots on net to keep Lincoln from scoring.

The team will play Concord-Carlisle Saturday to end the season.

Under 9B Girls blank Medford

The Wilmington Girls 9B team totally dominated the Medford team to record its fifth victory against one loss with a 5-0 win.

Goal keepers Alyssa Brown and Casey Godzyk teamed up to record their third shutout of the season. They were assisted by some fine defensive play from Amanda Lord and Kate Stevenson.

Wilmington got its first goal early on in the game. The Medford keeper was kicking the ball out but Elizabeth Wilson stole it and booted it by to give Wilmington a 1-0 lead.

Keeping the pressure up on Medford were Cameron Woodbury and Christa Cavallaro. Christa dribbled out of the pack and past the Medford defense and left-footed it past the Medford keeper to give Wilmington a 2-0 lead.

Once again Wilmington's third goal was similar to their first as Lauren Frissore stole the pass out front of the net and kicked it in for a 3-0 Wilmington lead.

Some fine passing between Nicole Reed and Christa Cavallaro resulted with Nicole making a pass out front to Christa who got her second goal of the game and Wilmington was up 4-0. This game featured more passing between all the girls. There was great hustle and team work from Jennifer DiNuccio and Danielle Fiorentino to keep Wilmington out in front.

Lauren Frissore finished the scoring off for Wilmington with her second goal of the game also as she booted it into the net to give Wilmington the 5-0 victory.

Wilmington 0 Lincoln 0

Game 2, played on Sunday, October 25, at home against Lincoln ended in a scoreless tie.

The Wilmington girls 9B team for the second straight game totally dominated play. They placed tremendous pressure on the Lincoln team as the action was kept down the Lincoln end.

There were serious offensive threats throughout the game. Elizabeth Wilson threw the ball in to Jennifer DiNuccio who proceeded to dribble the ball up and was able to get a good shot off on the Lincoln keeper who ended up making a nice stop.

Christa Cavallaro, Cameron Woodbury and Nicole Reed applied relentless pressure on Lincoln. Each time they got the ball close to the Lincoln net they were denied.

Danielle Fiorentino, Amanda Lord and Kate Stevenson stopped Lincoln's attack as each time they threatened to score the hustling play of the girls would drive them back.

Wilmington was close on so many occasions. Lauren Frissore dribbled up and passed the ball to Elizabeth Wilson who kicked it past the Lincoln keeper. However, it was just a little wide as it hit the goal post. For the second straight game, Casey Godzyk and Alyssa Wilson stopped every shot at them as they shut down the Lincoln offense.

Congratulations to both teams as they each hustled and played a superb game.

Under 10B Boys take on Winchester

The Wilmington U10B Boys travel soccer team played a very evenly matched game away at Winchester last Saturday.

Wilmington's goalkeeper Patrick Ryan was superb in net, as Derek DeRosa and Matthew Brooks shared the sweeper position.

Wilmington's offensive line kept pressure on the Winchester goal throughout the half with excellent attempts on net by Justin Patrie, C.J. Jeannette, Chris Azevedo and Jesse Belding. The midfield was held together by the great hustle of Patrick Schultz, Dan Patterson and James Cuoco.

The second half began with Jeannette in goal, and Ryan joining the forward line. Good passing plays from both teams set up many opportunities with Wilmington placing on the board first. Justin Patrie's through pass to Jesse Belding allowed Belding to shoot the ball past the charging goalie and into the net.

Moments later Winchester scored the equalizer and both squads turned up the intensity in hopes of a win. A break came Winchester's way as they capitalized on a rebound opportunity and went ahead by one.

Wilmington battled back, almost tying up the match by attempts from Belding, Patrie and Ryan. As the final whistle blew, Wilmington had to accept only its second loss of the season, after a very well played match. Final score - Winchester 2, Wilmington 1.

Streak continued for U10A boys team

The Wilmington boys under 10A team extended its unbeaten streak this week with decisive wins over Medford United and North Reading.

In the first game of the Week Wilmington destroyed Medford United. The Wildcats outplayed the opposition in every aspect of the game.

Later in the week Wilmington took on North Reading and came away with a 5-2 victory. Timmy Kent put in Wilmington's first goal within just minute of the game's start. North Reading answered with two consecutive goals.

Wilmington then turned up the volume with great defensive plays by Brian Johnson and Dana Steenbruggen who continually frustrated North Reading by stopping several attacks on the goal. Brendan Demango also made several nice moves to deflate the North Reading team's offensive line.

Shane Foley made a beautiful pass to Rich Barry who nailed the second goal for the Wildcats. Minutes later Wilmington was on the scoreboard again as Josh Mayo delivered the ball perfectly to Timmy Kent who headed the ball into the net for Wilmington's third goal.

Jeff Dell'Orfano gave the team its next goal off a blistering shot that could not be stopped by the North Reading goalie.

Wilmington dominated the second half of the game with great passing and defense. Brendan Sheehan made some outstanding offensive moves including a perfectly placed pass to Zach Church for an absolutely spectacular shot on net for the final Wilmington score of the game.

The team wraps up its successful fall season next week and will try to add another victory to the 7-0-1 record.

Under 10 A Girls

The Under 10A Lady Wildcats battled through the middle part of their schedule as they took on squads from Stoneham, Billerica and Lowell.

In their fourth game of the season, the Wilmington girls traveled to Stoneham where they would try to even their season record.

Although shorthanded, the Lady Wildcats came out flying from the opening kickoff to completely dominate the Stoneham squad.

Stoneham could not penetrate the tough Wilmington defense anchored by sweepers Ashley Bruno and Taryn Martiniello, Christine Marques was able to control the midfield with determined hustle and quick passes up to forwards Leah DelRossi and Shannell Courtois who pressured the Stoneham goal with numerous shots.

The Wilmington attack finally paid off when Samantha Canning made a beautiful cross to a streaking Monica Folk who deposited a hard low shot to the corner of the net for the early lead.

The Lady Wildcats maintained the pressure, but the Stoneham keeper came up with several key stops to prevent any more scores in the half

Samantha Canning opened the second half with a quick goal off a nice feed from Katelyn Maggio as the Lady Wildcats were beginning to roll. On the very next shift, Taryn Martiniello worked the ball up to Katelyn Maggio who beat the Stoneham defense and fired a shot past the beleaguered keeper for the score.

When Stoneham was able to get shots on goal, Christina Luciano answered with the saves and quickly cleared the ball with her booming kicks. The constant pressure in the Stoneham end resulted in another Wildcat score as Brianne Bozzella displayed some nifty footwork to get the final score to give Wilmington a convincing 4-0 victory and their second straight shutout victory.

In the next game, the Lady Wildcats hosted Billerica in a rematch of the season opener. This game proved to be a defensive battle as neither team could gain and maintain a clear advantage.

As in the previous two games the Lady Wildcats played solid defense again led by sweepers Ashley Bruno and Taryn Martiniello.

During most of the first half, Billerica could not pass through the midfield without facing the aggressive play of Samantha Canning, Leah DelRossi and Katelyn Maggio. Wilmington forwards, Shannell Courtois and Monica Folk broke into the Billerica end forcing the Billerica defense to break up numerous plays.

In the Wilmington goal, Brianne Bozzella stopped all of Billerica's chances with terrific goaltending. The first half came to a close without either team getting on the scoreboard.

The opening shift of the second half saw all around hustle by katie Sullivan and Christine Marques work the ball into the Billerica end where Wilmington was again stopped by the tough defense of Billerica.

As the half progressed, Billerica's attack began to pin Wilmington back in its own end, but solid defense by Danielle Bamberg and key saves by Christina Luciano prevented any scores.

The two teams battled until the final whistle but neither gave an inch as the game ended in a scoreless tie marking the third straight game that the Lady Wildcats held their opponents scoreless.

The Lady Wildcats next opponent was the Division I leading team from Lowell who traveled to Wilmington for a Sunday afternoon makeup game.

Wilmington got off to a fast start and put immediate pressure on the Lowell keeper as midfielders Taryn Martiniello and Samantha Canning along with forwards Monica Folk and Christien Marquees passed the ball smartly to set up several scoring chances. The Lowell keeper was up to the challenge to deny the Wilmington attack and spring her forwards free with well placed clearing kicks.

The Lowell forwards broke free on several occasions but tough defensive work by Ashley Bruno and Katelyn Maggio prevented any damage. Wilmington continued to carry the play but came up empty.

Lowell managed to send in an attacker on the wing for the first score of the game. The Lady Wildcats wee determined to even the score as they kept the pressure on with terrific rushes upfield by Christina Luciano.

In the second half, Wilmington maintained an edge in play as Leah DelRossi, Shannel Courtois and katie Sullivan showed nice passing and teamwork to put multiple shot son goal, but Lowell's keeper came up big again.

With Danielle Bamberg controlling the midfield, and Brianne Bozzella carrying the ball smartly into the attacking zone, the Lady Wildcats were able to maintain constant pressure in the Lowell end. However, strong goaltending by Lowell and some unlucky bounces for the Wilmington girls kept the Wildcats off the scoreboard. As time wound down, Wilmington tried frantically to even the score but Lowell hung on for a 1-0 victory.

Computer users group offers versatile program

By DOUG WOOD-BOYLE

Educating the students in today's schools about the ways of the computer is what is generally recognized as the way to make them ready for a paying position in the global community of the future.

The question is who is going to educate the educators so that they can properly impart the knowledge on to their students? That is a question that the husband and wife team of Pamela Ann Marie (P.A.M.) and James Borys decided that they were able to provide an answer for.

Together, the couple formed an organization called MacWoburn User Group to focus on the needs of educators, students and their parents.

In her own words P.A.M. (pronounced Pam) said, "In a sense it's like a club. User groups have been around since computers became more and more popular."

Her husband, James said, "P.A.M. tries to demystify the computer world."

They estimate that there are 40 odd user groups in the Greater Boston area. In fact P.A.M. got her start as a member of the former Boston Computer Society.

P.A.M. said, "I was a 10 year volunteer with the former Boston Computer Society. I joined the group when I knew nothing about computers and was terrified of them.

"People made themselves available to me and other resources were available. By the end of the first year with the group I became very good."

She added, "So much so that I became an instructor."

In fact both P.A.M. and James are perfect examples of how easy it is to get to know and overcome the computer.

He was a mechanical engineer and now works with his wife in their consulting business and finds himself getting more and more into the computer field.

The couple also serve on the Technology Committee of St. Charles School in Woburn.

P.A.M. notes that for all of the user groups and several of them are specifically for MAc users, "None of them address the needs of educators."

As part of the consulting business P.A.M. goes around to businesses and homes and brings people up to a level of skill and comfort with computers, especially Macs.

"I saw the need over and over again," P.A.M. said, "in educators and parents (for a group type of session on computer use). I think children need both the teachers and the parents to feel comfortable with the technology."

About The Towns by Phyllis Nissen

Surface to air and back

Stoneham, Winchester and Woburn lead the way

"Pump up your tires and begin oiling your chains because the Tri-Community Bike Path is finally coming to fruition thanks to its endorsement by the Metropolitan Area Planning Council (MAPC)," notes "The Stoneham Independent."

"The town received word of the MAPC endorsement...and was told that $1.2 million was recommended for appropriation. According to State Representative Paul Casey, the town can expect to receive the funding within a year.

"'Final approval is almost there,' Casey told the Independent. 'This endorsement doesn't guarantee it. It's just the next step.

"'We're one step away from winning the World Series, per se.'

"Cameron Bain, chairman of the Railroad Land Use Committee and coordinator of the Tri-Community Bikeway Committee, agreed that, while this does not translate into an appropriation, the bike path is just around the corner.

"'Everything else from now on is a formality,' he said. 'Once MAPC endorses it, that's it. We anticipated this right along.'

"Bain explained that the MAPC requested that the Tri-Town Community Bikeway Committee reduce its original request of $2.9 million in order to get the project started. The committee came back with a $1.2 million bid which they expect to receive in March or April of 1999, Bain said, and will then reapply for the remainder of the funding.

"The MAPC appropriated a total of $10 million for 15 projects in the state. 80 percent of the funding will be funded by the federal government, 20 percent by the state and an additional 10 percent is expected to be contributed by municipalities....

"Bain said that the future of the bike path could be infinite, with several communities coming forward in recent months and asking how they could link up to the bikeway. Reading, North Reading, Lynnfield, Wakefield, Saugus and Melrose have expressed interest in joining the tri-communities - Stoneham, Winchester and Woburn, he said.

"'Basically, it will be an ongoing project,' Bain stated. 'We'll just continue working on it.'

"Bain said that $1.2 million would likely pay for the entire Stoneham length of the path - beginning at Recreation Park and across to Pleasant Street. It would then run behind the Middle School and Pomeworth Park, travel across to Walgreens and Stop & Shop, run across Montvale Avenue to Maple Street and then into Woburn. The original funding will also pay for a portion of the bike path in Woburn and Winchester."

Winchester and Burlington fly right

"Wayne Maggio, a Winchester native, and Bill Collins of Burlington shared their love of flying with kids by putting youngsters right into the cockpit at the Hanscom Air Force base air show," notes the Winchester edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"Maggio owns a T-34, an all-metal, single-engine aircraft used by the military to train pilots. Some military T-34s have been sold to private parties for use in general aviation, and three years ago, Maggio was able to acquire his T-34, which he keeps at Hanscom. He had been flying a small, single-engine Cessna since 1984.

"Maggio observed that it may be hard to put kids into some of the most historic military aircraft at air shows. (Perhaps this is because of the need to preserve those planes from wear and tear and from broken parts.) However, Maggio said his T-34 is still relatively new, so he and Collins feel free to make the plane available to kids at air shows.

"Maggio's plane, having been once used by the military, can be called a 'Warbird.' Warbirds are aircraft - formerly owned by the military, especially those of historic importance such as World War II, Korean War, or Vietnam warplanes.

"Maggio and Collins go to great lengths to help kids get a taste of what it's like to be a pilot. Maggio said that at air shows, 'Kids are looking from the other side of a fence, and I like to bring them right in here and put them in the cockpit....'"

Lynnfield applauds public safety

"A. David Rodham has been named by Acting Governor Paul Cellucci as the acting secretary of the Executive Office of Public Safety...," notes the "Lynnfield Villager."

"Rodham, a former longtime local resident and businessman, served Lynnfield in many capacities as a member of the Board of Selectmen, Director of the Department of Public Works, Executive Assistant to the Selectmen (the position now called town administrator) and also as Lynnfield's elected State Representative.

"Rodham left his position as Executive Assistant to take the position of the Massachusetts Emergency Management Agency. He has since served as undersecretary of Public Safety since 1995."

Halloween Party in Stoneham

Mother Goose and her "live" Peter Rabbit will be in town for the final visit of the season. All the fun takes place on Sunday, November 1st from 5-6:30 at Our Place, 53 Central Street, Stoneham, (across from the Police Station).

Adults and children to age 8 will enjoy the music, puppets, laughter, singalongs, and interactive entertainment. Kids are encouraged to wear their Halloween costumes one more time for the special parade and treats!

Tickets are $3 per person at the door. Plenty of free parking on the street. Bring a brown bag supper. Beverages will be available for an additional donation.

This family entertainment series is presented by The National Coalition for Educational and Cultural Programs, Inc., a local nonprofit organization. Questions may be directed to NCECP by phone or fax at 781-279-4658.

Computer users group

From S-1

P.A.M. likens her experience at the former Computer Society and the way she now helps other people to the old colonial and pioneer days when people would help a newcomer to town with a barnraising and that person would be expected to join in and help the next person. Although they have their own consulting business, the MacWoburn group is free of charge.

The first meeting of the group was in September and tonight they will hold the second meeting (7 p.m. St. Charles School, 8 Myrtle Street, Woburn). It is "An Educators Guide to the Internet."

The Borys describe the session, which will be conducted by P.A.M., taking people onto the internet, which is changing many of the ways in which we socialize, do business, and conduct research. She will give tips on how to browse the web effectively and present some useful sites.

Participants who have found worthwhile material on the Net are invited to share them.

Next month James will take center stage, along with Neal Carey with a meeting on "What is a web page? How do I build one? Why would I want to?

James and Carey will speak about what makes an effective web page and describe how to build one. Time permitting, the discussion will also include how a class can use a web page to complete group projects.

The Borys use both Macs and IBM compatible with Windows. According to the couple, much of what is learned in the seminars is actually useable on both formats.

P.A.M. said, "The group is open to anybody. A lot of the topics will be of equal relevance to people using Macs or P.C.'s (personal computers)."

She noted the November meeting on building a website as an example.

"It doesn't matter what operating system you are using, the techniques are the same."

However, they focus on the Macs because that is the machine usually found in the classroom.

"A lot of schools are choosing the Mac," James said. "Many of them started with the Apple IIE."

He notes ease of maintenance and the "plug and play" concept of the Macs as the original reason they were chosen in the past.

"Today a lot of colleges are telling freshmen to come in with IMacs," James said.

P.A.M. said, "For a lot of people who don't know what they are doing or have a fear of what they are doing, Mac is a logical choice."

P.A.M. notes that the aim of the seminars is not to be didactic but to get a discussion going. She explained that many educators who are already comfortable with the computer are sharing information they have found on the internet. It is this type of concept she hopes to convey to the members of MacWoburn.

"The internet has become a user group in its own right," P.A.M. said.

MacWoburn is officially registered with Apple as a computer user group. This gives the participants the advantage of being able to receive free items, such as new software programs from the company.

If you are seeking more information on MacWoburn, call the Borys at (781) 935-0141. Or you can just stop by a meeting at the St. Charles School either tonight or November 24 at 7 p.m.

The meetings are set up for two hour formats but if the discussion is going strong the meetings will keep on going.

•MIDDLESEX EAST SPORTS WEEKLY TRIVIA QUESTION: Who was the first winner of the NHL's Vezina trophy? Answer appears elsewhere in this column.

•NORTH READING'S ANDREW CASEY (a graduate of Austin Prep), who now plays for the Lehigh University men's soccer team, has three goals and four assists four 10 points this season.

•READING'S NICK AIELLO had two catches for the Bentley College football team recently.

•The Central Massachusetts Mavericks Baseball Club will be holding fall tryouts in Reading for players who will be 13 or 14 years old by next spring. Team selection will be made at the end of October, for play next season. There is no cost for tryouts. The total cost of the program is $50. Teams will play in the Massachusetts AAU Junior Olympic Baseball Program. For more information and to register for tryouts call 1-508-842-5725.

•WOBURN'S CAROLYN BECKWITH is a sophomore Biomedical engineering major at Boston University. She is a varsity rower on the women's crew team, which competes in the Eastern Association of Women's Rowing Colleges. league and is considered the best level in the country. She earned a Bronze medal last year as a freshman at the IRA championships.

•READING'S CHRIS DYMENT had two assist in a recent Boston University men's hockey loss to the University of Vermont. WOBURN'S JOE FLAMMIA was sidelined in the game with a wrist injury.

•The Medford Recreational Hockey Association announces the formation of a "Girls Only" youth hockey league for the 1998-99 season. The rosters will consist of players from the area north of Boston.

One team will be for players 12 and under, the other 15 and under.

For more information call Director Frank Rizzo At 781-391-6682, or the Hotline at 781-395-6168.

•STONEHAM'S RYAN SODERQUIST had three goals for the Bentley College men's hockey team in a recent game, giving him 53 over his career.

•Need some clues to help out with the above-mentioned trivia question? The player's first name is George.

•WILMINGTON'S LINDSAY BRUNO recently scored the 28th goal of her soccer career, giving her the all-time mark at the school.

• WILMINGTON'S MICHELLE MCGONAGLE scored the 100th goal of her soccer career at Austin Prep recently. She started playing at the school as an eighth grader, and has served as captain the last three years.

•Bentley College recently inducted Woburn's Mike DeMarco and Wilmington's Mike Walsh into the school's Athletic Hall of Fame. DeMarco was a two-time MVP on the baseball team, while Walsh was an All-America disc thrower.

•ANSWER TO THIS WEEK'S TRIVIA QUESTION: The first recipient was George Hainsworth, who played for Montreal in 1927. He would also win the award the next two seasons. Congratulations to those that answered the question correctly, and look for this space next week to find another sports-related trivia question.

Old books lecture in Stoneham

Kenneth Gloss, proprietor of the nationally-known Brattle Book Shop in Boston, will speak at a free and open lecture at 7 pm, Wednesday, November 4, at the Stoneham Public Library, 431 Main Street, Stoneham.

Mr. Gloss' talk is entitled, "Treasures in Your Attic: Old and Rare Books." "New England homes are treasure troves for old and rare books that have increased in value over the years," says Gloss, "and we're inviting those attending to bring any volumes they want to know about to the lecture for a free verbal appraisal."

The Brattle Book Shop is the successor to America's oldest continuously operating antiquarian book store. Kenneth Gloss succeeded his late father, George Gloss, a well-known figure both in Boston and in national antiquarian circles.

For further information, please call the Brattle Book Shop at 1-800-447-9595.

At Melrose-Wkefield Hospital

New Mothers Network

As a woman enters the stage of motherhood in her life, she is often in need of support, understanding and guidance. The New Mothers Network, a support program offered by Melrose-Wakefield Hospital, helps to meet these needs.

"The New Mothers Network offers women continuing support after they leave the hospital and the direct care of the physician," says Eileen Dern, R.N., C.E.C., MWH Education Coordinator.

In addition to supporting new mothers, the New Moms Network, which is hosted by a certified lactation counselor and a registered Nurse childbirth educator, also helps to educate mothers, easing what can sometimes be a stressful transition period for many new parents.

"With most women delivering and leaving the hospital within a two-day period, many new mothers don't always feel very confident once they return home," says Mrs. Dern. "We are not only here to support them, but also to help answer any questions they many have."

Added to the short hospital stays is the fact that the nuclear family has changed and is now almost non-existent for many people. A new mother may no longer be able to go right next door to her mother for help, because more often than not, her mother may now be living quite a distance away. This once abundant resource of information and socialization is often no longer available.

The New Mothers Network is a free program offered by Melrose-Wakefield Hospital, a member of Hallmark Health, for women with children up to the age of one. It meets weekly from 3-5 pm on every Wednesday at the Dutton Center, 1117 Main Street in Wakefield.

New mothers should feel free to drop in and visit any time during the two-hour period. In addition, all new mothers are welcome to attend; you need not have delivered at Melrose-Wakefield Hospital. For additional information, please call 781-979-3408.

To combat osteoporosis

Building Bones class offered

Winchester Hospital offers a class called Building Bones that is specifically designed for people with osteoporosis. Taught by a certified fitness instructor specializing in osteoporosis, he/she will assist people with bone strengthening activities. Weights are supplied and exercises may be performed in chairs.

Classes are held on Wednesdays and Fridays beginning Nov. 18 from 8:30 to 9:30 am in the Keating Conference Room located in Baldwin Park I, 12 Alfred St., Woburn. For information call the Community Health Institute at 781-756-4700.

Daycare providers OFC class

Winchester Hospital offers Daycare providers a chance to receive OFC hours by attending a two hour class. Learn how to recognize and report the signs of child abuse and neglect.

The class will be held Oct. 28 from 7 to 9 pm in the Keating Conference Room at Baldwin Park I in Woburn. Pre-registration is required. For more information, please call the Community Health Institute at 781-756-4700.

Advanced fertility treatment specialist to speak in Malden

Shaila Phansey-Chauhan, MD, medical director of Hallmark Health Fertility Services, will speak on Advanced Fertility Treatment; "What Every Woman Should Know" on Thursday, October 29, from 7 to 8:30 pm, in the Maccario Room at The Malden Public Library in Malden.

She will present the same lecture again on Thursday, November 5, from 7 to 8:30 pm, at the Parlin Memorial Library in Everett.

The Malden Public Library is located on 36 Salem Street in Malden. The Parlin Memorial Library is located on 410 Broadway in Everett.

Phansey is a leading authority on infertility. She has practiced this specialty in the Melrose area for more than 10 years. In this lecture for the general public, she will discuss breakthroughs in today's fertility procedures, and what women can expect in the way of advanced reproductive treatment and support services.

To register for the lectures, or for more information about Hallmark Health Fertility Services, please call 781-397-6540.

School Notes

by Phyllis Nissen

Grown accustomed to their faces

Welcome and welcome back in Reading

"The following is a list of new faces...in the classrooms and front offices at schools throughout town this year:," notes the Reading edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"Michelle Addario (Parker); Mary Beth Banios (Elementary Instructional Specialist Language Arts-Social Studies); Catherine Beach (Parker); Amy Bradford (Parker); Amy Brittell (Joshua Eaton); Melissa Campbell (RMHS); Donna Childs (RMHS); Richard Con·eau (Middle School Instr. ·onal Specialist Science-Math); Jeffrey Conley (Parker); Amy Dyment (Parker); Sarah Erickson (Parker); Samantha Genier (Coolidge); Brenda Hodgkins (Coolidge); Elizabeth Houghton (Killam); Sara Klein (Barrows); Debra Kwiatek (Joshua Eaton); Meghan LeFevre (Coolidge); John Marion (Director of Technology); Matthew McKeon (RMHS); Cheryl O'Brien (RMHS Asst. Principal); Janet Platt (Coolidge); Bob Peterson (Coolidge Interim Asst. Principal); Susan Puopolo (Barrows); Noreen Scarpitto (RMHS); Maria Simon (Barrows); Christinia Spaulding (Parker); Susan Sprole (Joshua Eaton); Amy Stein (Killam); Beth Ann Stevenson (Birch Meadow, Resource Room Teacher); Josie Szolusha (Birch Meadow); Christina Tiernan (RMHS); Kimberly Vassilev (Coolidge)."

Well before school in North Reading

"The School Department is again running a before-school child care program in each of its elementary schools," notes the "North Reading Transcript."

"The program enables working parents to drop students off at their particular schools an hour or so before the regularly scheduled start of classes...."

Into '99 in Tewksbury

"...The focus of our work for the 1998-1999 school year is outlined in the System Wide Goals," notes Christine L. McGrath, Ph. D., Superintendent of Schools, in the "Tewksbury Town Crier."

"These goals were developed by the Tewksbury School Committee and the Administrative Council. The goals were formally adopted by the School Committee on July 29, 1998. Copies of the goals are available at the Office of the Superintendent of Schools at 139 Pleasant Street or by calling the office at 640-7801.

"The goals reflect the continued commitment of the School Committee and Administration to the development of a strong basic skills foundation in each student. Specific initiatives in this area include the implementation of standards for student writing in kindergarten through grade 12 and the development of specific student outcomes for each major subject. These outcomes are closely aligned with the Curriculum Frameworks adopted by the Massachusetts Department of Education. The goal of this effort is to establish clearly defined expectations for our students and measures of accountability for students and faculty.

"Student assessment continues to be a primary goal. Student performance on the recently administered Massachusetts Comprehensive Assessment System (MCAS) will be carefully reviewed and action plans will be developed and implemented to address any areas of identified weakness. Student performance on the recently adopted Tewksbury Test will be evaluated to insure that our students have mastered the concepts presented in our curriculum.

"The Tewksbury School Committee continued to provide the funding necessary for a Summer School Program for Grade Eight Students who had not met the academic standards in Mathematics and English."

The progress of these students is being closely monitored during the fall of 1998, according to McGrath. In addition the School Committee approved funding for a Saturday morning 'Safety Net' program for students in grades one through five. Children experiencing academic difficulty are recommended by their teachers for enrollment in this program.

"Goals in the area of computer technology will address the expanded use of the Internet as a research tool by all students," continues McGrath. "We will also evaluate the current software inventory in all schools and eliminate those programs which are obsolete. The staff development program for faculty, staff and administration will continue to include training to support the effective integration of computer technology into the existing curriculum.

"Creating positive school cultures and productive learning environments are key goals for this year. The School Improvement Plans prepared by each school council include specific goals to promote respect within all members of the school community. The Town Wide Parent Advisory Council and the School Department will continue their efforts to strengthen the home school partnership. A three part parent training program will be offered.... In addition the High School will develop a series on the adverse effects of substance abuse within the lives of our students.

"The successful completion of the construction of the John F. Ryan Elementary School will command our full attention throughout the 1998-1999 school year. We are grateful to the members of the New School Building Committee for their time and effort in making this dream a reality...."

If you'd like to read about your favorite school, student or teacher in "School Notes," please send school newsletters and other relevant information to Phyllis Nissen, "School Notes," Middlesex East Supplement, Box 240, Reading, MA 01867. We welcome student writing.

ANTHONY MANCONI

Folks, there isn't a country in the world like America. On the 17th of March we are all Irish. Columbus Day we are either Italian or Portuguese (take your pick). On the 4th of July we are all Americans and, on some of the other days some of us are all mixed up!

This "Chips" is in grateful acknowledgement to a wonderful Jewish Lady, the late Mrs. Ida Kirstein. She repeatedly told my father that his philosophy was, "Wrong, Wrong, Wrong." Education comes, "First" eating is the, "Second" priority. It was because of her constant bombardments of reasons to send members of my family to high schools and then on to college, that my parents and relatives took her advice. I can now boast of the numerous doctors, lawyers, teachers and other professionals in my immediate family. Folks, that is one of the many reasons why I love the Jewish people who consider "Education" second only to their religious faith.

My Aunt Nora, who is looking over my shoulder as I'm typing said, "Chipper, don't forget to tell your readers that there "IS" one failure, "YOU" the Woodchipper."

I remember when I took a short-cut going to school with my pal Joey Aldo of Winchester. We went through a field and in climbing over a fence I ripped the seat of my pants on the barbed wire. We continued on to school anyway. I entered my classroom late. Miss Ellison, looked up at the clock and then at me and said, "I see you're little behind this morning, Anthony." "You wouldn't have Miss Ellison if my pal Joey had a safety pin!"

During prohibition I was engaged to a "Bootleggers daughter. I loved her, "Still."

Paul Simon told me that he got his money through "Hard Work". "Gee Paul," I said, "I heard you inherited the money from your rich Uncle Dinny." "Yea" Paul replied "But. it sure was, "Hard Work" getting it away from the estate lawyers!"

How many remember the leisurely automobile drive to Revere or Hampton Beach on a summer Sunday afternoon? Well Folks, those fun loving drives are a thing of the past, The rules of the road today it seems to me are, "Red Light- STOP"- "Yellow Light-Floor it" and, "Green-Light, Proceed with caution."

Folks, we may own a palatial estate with neatly trimmed hedges, majestically towering trees and a beautiful manicured lawn and they don't mean a thing if we haven't "GOOD" neighbors. My father always said, "Love your neighbors - BUT-keep those "fences UP!"

My cousin Mario is married to Kate but is in love with Edith. His wife found out and told Mario in no uncertain terms "Make up your mind Casanova, you can't have your Kate and Edith too!"

I remember when my Uncle John Shea went to his Eternal Rest. He got a government job in Washington D.C.

Police Officer Chris Giannino stopped my Aunt Nora for speeding. He noticed a German Police Dog sitting next to her so asked "Does that dog have a license?" "Why the heck should he have a license?" Aunt Nora shouted, "I'm the only one who drives this car."

Capt. Dan Gately said to me, "Chipper, why are you walking back and forth in front of your

Realtor/Colonial Manor Realty

Just in case you have not heard, with the new capital gains law you do not have to wait until you are 55 years old for your tax exclusion. You may remember that if you waited until you were 55 or older to sell your primary residence, the first $125,000 in gains would be tax-free. Now, at any age and as long as you have lived in your home for 2 years or longer, a married couple can sell and be free of capital gains taxes, with gains of up to $500,000 ($250,000 for singles). Now there's no need to wish your life away. Whether you are 49, 52 or 28, you can sell NOW and enjoy your gains for your next venture. If you would like more information about these new and improved tax benefits, give Jane a call at 944-6300.

Quality doors add value and charm

Enhancing the look and increasing the value of your home is easier and more affordable than you might think.

For instance, simply upgrading to higher-quality doors can create a richer environment for furniture and accessories and increase a home's efficiency. Replacing those plain, drafty doors with stylish, efficient models is also one of the most effective ways to add a little charm to a plain house.

The reason doors can have so much impact is simple-if a wall features a doorway, a large portion its entire area is dedicated to a highly visible piece of millwork. The choice is whether to make that object work as a design element or allow it to be just a space divider between rooms.

One manufacturer of doors, Premdor Inc., has a line of fashion doors to complete the new look of any room in your house.

Its replacement doors come in a variety of styles - Colonial, French provincial or high tech contemporary - all of which allow you to easily recast the decor of one room or your entire home.

Other models from the company offer specific benefits. The mirrored Colonist, a solid door with mirror inset, can help visually "expand" an other wise confining room. And for rooms with high ceilings, the company's 7-or 8-foot tall doors add heightened elegance to the completed room.

Premdor also makes use of today's technology in manufacturing a line of doors designed for reasons other than appearance.

Its Safe 'N Sound solid-core doors have a heavy-duty feel and offer significantly reduced noise transmission near bedrooms, bathrooms and high traffic areas.

And its fire-rated doors are designed to provide 20, 45, or 90 minutes of extra security and peace of mind to homeowners. Fire rated doors are often recommended to separate an attached garage from the rest of the house.

To help maintain the beautiful look of your new doors, look for models with up-grade "prefinishes."

Find out more about premdor products by calling 1-800-663-DOOR (1-800-663-3667).

Your home: Q & A

Q: We live in northern New England and are thinking of insulating the walls of our 100-year-old house. What are our options in a project like this, and is this something we can do ourselves?

A. Insulating above-grade wall cavities in existing houses is a high-ticket job. You should consider it after you've first insulated your attic and then weatherstripped all doors and windows and filled all cracks.

Product options here include loose fill or foamed-in-place insulation. Both jobs require expensive equipment and expertise making this a job for a professional contractor. Improperly installed loose fill settles, leaving voids at the tops of the walls. Urea formaldehyde foam does not settle and seals gaps very well but its vapors are offensive. A newer foam called polyurea contains no formaldehyde and yields an R-value of 11.3 for a 31/2-inch thickness but is still a pro job.

Rigid insulation boards are made of expanded and extruded polystyrene or polyurethane. Both basic types come in standard sizes for interior or exterior sheathing. They are combustible and building codes require that they be covered with a fire-resistant barrier such as a one-half-inch-thick gypsum board.

This can make their use costly. But, when used as part of a re-siding job, the sheathing serves as a fire barrier. This type of insulation cuts air infiltration dramatically. Watch out for condensation problems with vapor-barrier sheets and buy on the basis of aged, not just-manufactured R-values.

Weatherizing and insulating home help save money

The coming of winter signals the startup of heat pumps, furnaces and space heaters. While it's important to do a checkup to make sure everything is in working order, it also is a good time to take a look around to make sure energy isn't being wasted in your home.

Weatherizing and insulating your house has many benefits and can be a big money saver. Studies show that heating and cooling costs account for more than half of the total energy bill, including those in homes with average insulation.

Weatherizing

From S-10

A well-insulated home is easier on the pocketbook. At the same time it is gentler on the environment because it saves energy and therefore cuts down on pollution and the depletion of natural resources. In an average home in a cold climate, it is estimated reducing energy usage by only 15 percent can save the equivalent of 500 pounds of coal each year.

Also, a tightly sealed, well-insulated house can eliminate cold spots and drafts and make for a more comfortable home.

DO IT YOURSELF

In making your own energy audit, first check for drafts around windows and doors by holding a lit match up to gaps in the door or window on a windy day, recommends Debbie Rambo, of The Home Depot. The flame will move or blow out, then hold the smoldering match to the area and see how the draft affects the smoke. If it flutters, the weather stripping is inadequate and should be replaced or upgraded.

Next, measure the temperature in different parts of the room. If it fluctuates more than one or two degrees, that room is poorly sealed or air movement inside the house is restricted. Correct this by updating the weatherstripping around doors and windows and measure the temperatures again. If the variations still exist, you may have an air flow problem with your heating system. Check with your public utility company to see if they can provide you with information about air flow problems and how to correct them.

Take a look at your weatherstripping and insulation. Is it beginning to deteriorate? Is it crumbling? Has it hardened or is it torn? Most weatherstripping products will last only a few years so expect this to be a seasonal job.

Caulking even the tiniest of spaces between the home's siding and exterior elements will go a long way to keep warm inside. Seal around vents, wood framing, cables, facets and electrical outlets-anything that could create a possible air leak.

Look for condensation, frost or ice buildup on the inside surfaces of interior window sashes. Moisture buildup indicates that interior windows are not properly protected from the colder air outside. Check the seal around storm windows. If you find gaps, fill them with foam backer rope or peelable caulk.

Also check for condensation, frost or ice buildup on storm windows or the outside surface of interior windows. Condensation indicates that moist, warm air is escaping, and that the seal between the interior window and the storm window needs to be caulked.

You may also want to conduct an energy audit on your home with the help of your local utility company. Most power companies will provide either an energy audit kit, or conduct the audit for you - sometimes free of charge. The audit will help you identify any energy loss areas, and recommend solutions.
